U. S. Likely to Agree on Mikoyan Visit

High-Level Discussion May Result

Trip Is Planned By Soviet Deputy

WASHINGTON (AP)—The possibility of high level Soviet-American policy talks here opened up today with a report that Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan would like to visit Washington early next year.

Mikoyan is in the inner circle of Kremlin leadership close to Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Would Meet Envoy

The State Department has declined comment but the Soviet government was understood to have approached the U.S. embassy in Moscow about arranging the trip.

Mikoyan's immediate purpose would be to visit Ambassador Mikhail A. Menshikov. It would be his second visit to this country. His first was in 1936 as head of an industrial survey group.

The United States, some informants said, has not yet made a decision. But indications were that it would agree to the suggestion.

Ike Pushed Idea

President Eisenhower proposed last February that leading Soviet personalities should come to this country and rid themselves by first hand observation of false conceptions which Eisenhower said they have about the United States.

Presumably if he came here, the 63-year-old Mikoyan would be prepared to discuss a wide range of outstanding disagreements and tensions.

But the belief here is that his main interest would be to promote greater trade.

Sought U. S. Credits

In a letter to Eisenhower June 2, Khrushchev said such trade could be built up to a volume of several billions of dollars within a few years. But he said to achieve that volume it would be necessary for the United States to grant long term credits to the Soviet Union.

Secretary of State Dulles later remarked that Khrushchev has "declared economic warfare on us . . . And now it looks as though the Soviet Union wanted to get credit from us so that it could more successfully pursue its economic warfare against us."

There was speculation the question of top-rung visits between Russian and American leaders may have arisen during an eight-hour talk between Khrushchev and Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn). The two met in Moscow on Dec. 1, and Mikoyan sat in on the talks for about an hour.

Court Reform to Get Rocky, GOP Priority

NEW YORK (AP) — Gov.-elect Nelson A. Rockefeller and GOP legislative leaders have agreed to give highest priority to a proposed constitutional amendment to reorganize the courts in the 1959 session of the Legislature.

Rockefeller met Wednesday with Senate Majority Leader Walter J. Mahoney; Oswald D. Heck, speaker of the Assembly; and Assembly Majority Leader Joseph F. Carlino.

After their session, a joint statement said:

"On Nov. 10 the Judicial Conference of the State of New York presented a carefully considered plan for court reorganization. This plan represents the best thinking of some of our most distinguished jurists. A draft amendment to carry out this plan will be introduced in the Legislature.

"In addition to the Judicial Conference plan, a plan has been drafted by the Institute of Judicial Administration at New York University This proposal has been endorsed by the League of Women Voters and, with one exception, by the Citizens Union. This and still other proposals will be presented to the Legislature.

Seek Positive Action

"The legislative leaders have agreed that hearings will be held promptly on court reorganization proposals when the Legislature convenes in January. We are in complete agreement that positive and effective action must be taken at the forthcoming session of the Legislature.

Rockefeller Wednesday designated James A. Lundy, former Queens borough president, to become chairman of the Public Service Commission.

Lundy, 53, was defeated in his bid as GOP candidate for state comptroller in the November election. He is expected to assume the $23,000-a-year PSC post Feb. 1 when the term of the present chairman, Benjamin F. Feinberg, of Plattsburgh, expires.

Feinberg reached the retirement age Wednesday. Gov. Averell Harriman has appointed James M. Landis of Rye to fill the remainder of Feinberg's term. Public Service Commissioners serve 10-year terms.

Rosendale Group Told:

Still Time to Buy Oil Through State

Following a special meeting of the town board of the Town of Rosendale held Monday evening at which time Supervisor George Majestic (D), town of Gardiner, spoke on purchase of road oil through the State Department of Standards and Purchase, a delegation visited Albany Tuesday to make inquiry into the proposition.

Attending the session at Albany was Town Superintendent of Highways John "Charlie" Markle (R); Supervisor George Mollenhauer (D), and Mrs. Catherine O'Leary (D).

Bids Not Called Yet

As a result of that meeting it was determined, Supervisor Mollenhaure stated, that there was still time to make requisition to the state to purchase road oil under the state contract, although notice had gone out that the final date would be November 20. Mollenhauer said that the delegation had been informed the state bids had not been called for and there was still time to make requisition before the state contract is let. He said they had been informed at Albany that they would be given notice just when bids would be opened.

At the meeting Tuesday afternoon, Mollenhauer said both the town and village of Rosendale had indicated to the State Department that they were interested in purchasing road oil under the state contract, which he said would effect a considerable saving from the local price.

Estimate Purchases

Mrs. O'Leary indicated that the village would be interested in purchasing 6,000 gallons of oil and Town Superintendent Markle indicated the town might use around 40,000 gallons. Since the delivery of oil to the municipality may be 25 per cent over or 25 per cent under the amount specified in the requisition, Town Superintendent Markle indicated an estimated amount of 32,500 gallons, which in the event the oil is purchased through the state contract, will permit purchase of the estimated 40,000 gallon requirement and in the event less is required the purchase may be 25 per cent less than the 32,500 gallons.

Mollenhauer said there had been a tentative "signing-up" by the officials for that gallonage, still the offer for purchase may be withdrawn before purchase becomes final.

Patronage Aide To Harriman Gets $16,000 State Job

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Milton D. Stewart, who has been Gov. Harriman's patronage advisor, will become counsel to the State Thruway Authority on Jan. 1.

Stewart, 36, will succeed Robert Prince, Westchester County Republican, in the Thruway post, which pays $16,000 a year. Prince resigned last February to return to private law practice.

Cleared Appointments

Stewart has been executive assistant to the Democratic governor's counsel throughout the Harriman administration. In that capacity, he devoted much time to clearing appointments to patronage posts.

Stewart's appointment was announced Wednesday by Authority Chairman Clinton B. F. Brill, a Democrat. Republican R. Burdell Bixby is the only other authority member at present. The third seat is vacant.

GOP to Have Control

Republican Nelson A. Rockefeller, who becomes governor Jan. 1, is expected to name a Republican to the vacant position.

Republicans then would regain control of the authority and its patronage.

Stewart, a native of New York City, held several federal posts before joining the Harriman administration.

Wagner, Mediators to Confer Today on 9-Day News Strike

NEW YORK (AP)—Mayor Robert F. Wagner and three national and city mediation officials meet today to discuss the nine-day-old strike against nine city newspapers.

Peace talks broke down completely Wednesday. Group representing publishers and the striking Newspaper and Mail Deliverers Union failed to agree on a resumption of negotiations as they met with federal mediators.

Presses at the nine papers have been still since shortly after the strike of deliverymen began Dec. 9 over wages and other contract issues.

The newspaper industry is losing an estimated 1½ million dollars a day in advertising and circulation revenues and in suspended wages of nearly 20,000 nonstriking but idle employes.

In a separate action, the New York Board of Trade called on President Eisenhower, Gov. Averell Harriman, Gov.-elect Nelson A. Rockefeller and Wagner to intervene.

At Wednesday's brief joint meeting, the publishers held firm on their offer of a two-year, $7-a-week wage package.

The deliverers' membership turned down this offer when the strike began. Union negotiators agreed Tuesday to resubmit the offer, but were overruled in a membership meeting.

Present deliverers wage is $103.82 a week.

West Germany Replaces France as 3rd in NATO

PARIS (AP)—West Germany is becoming the third most important military power in the Atlantic Alliance, taking the place left vacant by France's troubles in Algeria and her disputes with her allies.

This picture emerged from the annual assessment of NATO strength. The meeting of ministers from the 15 treaty nations headed to its conclusion tonight with big gains for Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany and losses for French Premier Charles de Gaulle.

No Dispute Evident

Not that there was any dispute between representatives of the two leaders. Since De Gaulle became premier June 1, circumstances have made them friends seeking the same goals—at least over the short range.

But the Germans were NATO's fair-haired boys. The French had to defend their military shortcomings and failed to win the top place in Allied councils which De Gaulle seeks.

All 15 countries agreed with the military goals presented by the supreme Allied commander, U.S. Gen. Lauris Norstad. But an official spokesman added that Norstad's program of 30 combat-ready divisions at full strength and of speeding up development of nuclear weapons was accepted only as an objective. This was an admission that some nations, notably France, are dragging their feet.

Disturbed Over Revolt

For several years NATO military planners have been disturbed by France's inability to end the Algerian rebellion and bring back to Europe the several hundred thousand troops sent to quell the nationalist uprising.

During those years the West Germans have been building a new military force. Defense Minister Franz Josef Strauss said by the end of March West Germany will have a 200,000-man force in the NATO defense line.

Police Hunt Boy Purse Snatcher

A purse snatcher, who knocked down a woman uptown last night, was the object of a police hunt through the night and today.

Police were notified shortly after 7 p. m., that the purse had been taken from Louise Luther of 451 Washington Avenue at Fair and St. James Streets by a slender teenager believed to be 13 or 14 years old. He was described as about five feet, 10 or 11 inches tall, and was wearing a gray tweed car coat.

The purse, a brown leather brief case, converted into a purse contained a small amount of money, a wrist watch, keys and other items.

Patrol cars and detectives were alerted as soon as police headquarters received the report.

Bitter Fight Is Possible Due to Dispute in House

WASHINGTON (AP — The Hays-Alford election dispute moved today toward a possibly bitter fight that could rock the House.

A special House committee voted 3-2 Wednesday to recommend that Dr. Dale Alford, Little Rock segregationist, be denied a seat pending an investigation into charges of irregularities and fraud in his election. The two no votes came from Southerners.

Alford to Push Case

Alford, who testified he believed he was elected honestly, promised to push his case at once.

Alford entered the November election at virtually the last minute.

Optimism Here, Elsewhere

Yule Buying Good, Few Are Cautious

Christmas business in Kingston seems to be about as good as it is in the rest of the country—and that's pretty good indeed, according to a chck by The Freeman today.

Very generally, business here seems to be running pretty close to what it was last year when all-time records were eclipsed.

A few merchants inject a cautious note, preferring to wait until final figures are in before committing themselves. They point out that the last few shopping days are the really big ones.

Generally, however, the note of optimism is salient.

Most Are Confident

According to Walter Breede Jr., Associated Press business news writer, most of hundreds of retailers across the country questioned about Christmas sales feel confident of beating last year's record totals, thanks in part to slightly higher prices and an extra shopping day. Few, however, see anything that resembles a real boom.

"Christmas business will equal last year and may be a little better. But it's not running away."

This cautious comment by M. E. Arnett, vice-president of Bullock's Department Store in Los Angeles, Calif., typifies the attiude of retailers interviewed by the Associated Press.

Local Comments

Business locally reflects somewhat the same feeling.

Albert C. Kurdt, manager of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce, said comments he hears indicates that business is "very good. Seems to be very active."

He said that in conversations with a number of different people he got the feeling that dollar volume of business was, in general, very good."

Stanley London, president of the Uptown Businessmen's Association, said business in the uptown section, according to comments of fellow retailers, was "running about up to last year" —which was the best of local record.

He feels that merchants may well end up ahead of last year, calling attention to an extra day of shopping available this year.

Looking for Values

London said it may be a "little tougher" this year for the retailer, that people are looking for more value and are keenly selective. He feels that the new parking lot back of the Senate House Museum has helped considerably. He remarked also that the parking lot back of Mont-

National Body Accredits Benedictine Nurse School

The Benedictine Hospital School of Nursing has been informed by the National League of Nursing that it has received full accreditation for its nursing program.

Accreditation by this national body is given only after the highest standards of a particular nursing program are met. The Benedictine Hospital School of Nursing is the second school from the Mid-Hudson area to receive full accreditation from the National League Nursing. St. Francis Hospital School of Nursing in Poughkeepsie received theirs a year ago.

Because of the uncertainty of the building program, the Benedictine school did not apply for full accreditation until last year. In January, 1958 however, Provisional Accreditation was granted on the basis of an application, which was submitted to the Board of the National League for Nursing.

This national accreditation is in addition to approval by the New York State Department of Education which was recently given for another five years.

In July of this year, the school was extensively surveyed by two representatives of the NLN. This survey covered the educational program, including the curriculum and the hospital as the experience area for the students. The school's objectives, community contributions, selection policies, and guidance program were also carefully studied. The physical facilities of the school, including classrooms, laboratories, library, and living quarters, which were under construction at the time, were also visited.

The ultimate purpose of National Accreditation of School of Nursing is the improvement of nursing service throughout the country. Advantages of accreditation are many. They include helping the school achieve desired levels of excellency, stimulating recruitment of more desirable applicants and giving the nursing school prestige which is of potential value to the faculty, students and hospital.

The new school and residence is nearing completion and should be ready for occupancy shortly after the first of the year.

$50,000 Bond Frees White; Held for Unionist Slaying

NEWBURGH, N. Y. (AP) — Bail has been posted for Malcolm White, cable manufacturer charged with shooting to death union organizer Alfred Dugan.

The unusual step of granting bail in a first degree murder case was taken Wednesday by State Supreme Court Justice Leonard Supple. After hearing arguments by the prosecutor and defense counsel, Supple set bond at $50,000.

A few hours later, bail was posted through James M. Rochelle, a professional bondsman from Yonkers. White, 48, was met on his release by his wife and their 15-month-old son.

White, president of the Chester Cable Co., went free for the first time in more than a month. He is charged with killing Dugan last Nov. 13 about a mile from the plant after an argument. White has pleaded innocent.

Dugan had been trying to bring the plant's workers into his union. Another union previously had been recognized by White.

Higher Court Says Bingo Operator Must Stand Trial

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—Part-time bingo operator Carlton Cadle must stand trial on an anti-lottery indictment which was thrown out of Monroe County Court last April.

An Appellate Division of State Supreme Court Wednesday unanimously reversed the lower court decision by Judge George D. Ogden.

Last March, Cadle defied an order to close his game, saying he wanted to make a test case. He was subsequently indicted under the Anti-Lottery Law.

Says Dollar for Chair

Cadle argued that the indictment failed to show he was charging customers to play bingo. He admitted he charged a one dollar chair rental fee but said it wasn't necessary to rent a chair to play bingo.

Judge Ogden agreed and threw the indictment out of court.

But the Appellate Division, Fourth Department, in an opinion written by Justice Alger Williams, ordered the indictment reinstated and the trial rescheduled.

Would Decide Question

"At the very least," Williams wrote, "the allegations in the indictment as to the payment of $1 by 'participants' who desire to sit down raises a question as to what the consideration was for."

Cadle has continued to operate his game since April. Several others have also been operated on a chair-rental basis.

Before passage of the Bingo Law in 1957, there were 17 commercial games operating here. The law now permits municipalities to legalize bingo for charitable purposes.

Group Urges U.S. Arbor Day Data and Practical Planting

Efforts will be made seeking state legislation to establish the last Friday in April as National Arbor Day, it was announced today by the Ulster County Committee on Arbor Day.

Rabbi Herbert I. Bloom, chairman, said 20 states already have voted to establish such an observance. The committee would like to see New York do likewise.

Participating in the local effort are a number of prominent citizens, representatives of the 4-H Club, Extension Service, local service clubs and other organizations.

The committee said today that one facet, usually neglected, and the most "vitally pertinent part of any planned program of tree planting is having the plant fit its permanent location. This is with reference to size, shape, color and density of foliage, adaptability and growth characteristics.

"Most of us see the need and desirability of planting for beauty, health, place for reverie, recreation or rest—for us—not for the tree or shrub.

"To satisfy our whim we make another of Our Lord's Creations suffer and quite frequently sentence it to untimely death. However, there is scarcely a place on this earth that will not support some sort of life, if only someone will fit the proper 'living' fragment into the jigsaw puzzle of environment.

"We have literally unlimited varieties of plants to choose from. Therefore, let us resolve to use them in their proper places. In so doing we shall be adding to our permanent health and happiness, beautifying the earth and subtracting from our increasingly expensive removal and replacement woes.

"Education for planning and planting in our environment is one of the objectives of our Arbor Day Committee. Resources and information on this important matter may be obtained from the Ulster County Extension Service, 220 Wall Street. Our committee will also direct those desiring it to literature and other sources of information."

Heated Debates Take Place Over Spending

Republicans Cite Increases in Costs For Running Various Departments

A budget totaling $6,825,866.51, of which $2,815,288.04 must be raised by local tax levy, was voted Wednesday evening by the board of supervisors after a quiet public hearing had been held at 3 o'clock that afternoon, but after a lengthy and heated debate at the board meeting in the evening.

The budget was adopted by a vote of 16 to 12, Republican members voting for adoption, 12 Democratic members voting against and two Democratic members not voting. Supervisor James P. Fiore (D) of the 5th ward was absent due to illness.

Not voting were Supervisors Thomas F. Coughlin (D), 7th ward, and Supervisor Joseph Turck (D) of the 4th ward, both declining to vote because they had not been given sufficient time to study the budget and vote intelligently on the proposition.

Criticizes Welfare

Leading the attack on the adoption was Supervisor James T. McCardle (D) of the 9th ward, a member of the Welfare Committee, who objected strenuously to adoption of the budget on the grounds that the Public Welfare budget was "out of line" and had "inaccuracies." He protested that certain moneys transferred to the Welfare Fund by resolution of the board late in 1958 were not indicated and he said these modifications did not appear in the budget and were "hidden" items which should be shown in the 1959 budget.

Budget Officer Robert A. Snyder said he "resented" the statement that he had hidden anything in the budget.

Specifically McCardle objected to the items for home relief, old age assistance and burials, saying that the burial item provided funds enough to bury "almost a person a day." He also held that with the "recession" over the $75,000 allocated for home relief was excessive and he also said that the old age assistance item of $720,000 was excessive, pointing out that in 1957 there was expended only $28,954.41 for home relief and the modified budget of 1958 was only $54,000. for home relief while in 1957 the old age assistance expenditure had been $663,673.35 and the modified budget for 1958 showed only $643,615.49. Burials had gone from an expenditure of $23,604.71 in 1957 to $32,250 in the modified budget for 1958 and for 1959 an item of $42,000 was included in the budget.

Costs Up: Williams

In reply to the charges of McCardle, Supervisor Peter Williams (R) Saugerties, a member of the Budget Committee, pointed out that costs had gone up and he cited an increase in the charge for room and board in nursing homes which had gone up to $135 a month and now the proprietors were demanding $160 a month.

It was also pointed out that while Social Security payments had been increased, the monthly payments were still far too low to support the aged and there was growing need for funds for Old Age Assistance.

The argument became personal at times with charges of untruth being thrown about.

McCardle summed up his objections when he said "the budget can't justify all its expenditures."

Called Publicity Seekers

During the heated debate, which took place on the vote for adoption of the budget, charges were made by Republican members of the board that the Democratic members were seeking "publicity" by their floor debates and this allegation was very strongly denied by the debaters.

One objection made to the budget was directed to an item of $54,000 in the general fund for "judgments and claims." This item is to provide for payment of the balance due on preparation of plans for a county building by Harry Halverson, under a contract which the board entered into before the plan to erect a new county building was defeated when Democratic members voted against a bond issue for the purpose and the county building project was dropped when a two-thirds vote for a bond issue was not forthcoming.

Points to Circumstances

Minority Leader John J. Gaffney (D) Lloyd, a member of the Budget Committee, said the committee "did the best it could under the circumstances" in preparing a budget but he said it was "wrong" to include the $50,000 item for the county office plans in the budget.

Supervisor John C. Quimby (D), Marlboro, read from a report he had received from the Department of Audit and Control and an opinion which stated it was not legal to pledge funds of a future budget and also that it was illegal to enter into a contract unless an appropriation had been made or funds were available or provision had been made to finance the contract cost.

Supervisor Turck (D) one of the two Democratic members who declined to vote, said sufficient time had not been given to study the budget and he opposed a public hearing at 3 o'clock in the afternoon when the public could not attend. He also said the board should not meet the same eveing after the public hearing but time should be given to study the objection and suggestions of the citizens who attended the public hearing.

"Only the members of the committee (Budget) know any-

Rocky to Meet State's Major Labor Leaders

NEW YORK (AP)—Fifty of the state's leading labor leaders and Gov.-elect Nelson A. Rockefeller meet informally tonight.

All major officers of the recently merged State AFL-CIO and two vice presidents of the National AFL-CIO are expected to attend the get-acquainted meeting.

The vice presidents are David Dubinsky of the International Ladies Garment Workers Union and Jacob S. Potofsky of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America.

Victor Borella, executive vice president of Rockefeller Center, is host. He was the Republican governor-elect's chief labor adviser in the campaign.

An executive suite at the Radio City Music Hall is the site of the informal session—a reception and cocktail party.

Although most labor leaders backed Rockefeller's opponent, Democratic Gov. Averell Harriman in the campaign, Rockefeller said he wanted labor's advice in drafting legislation to curb union-management abuses. Rockefeller also said he would confer with labor officials over possible legislation on economic problems.

Must Await Consent

NEW YORK (AP)—A Nepalese prince and a pretty Cleveland, Ohio, girl have taken out a marriage license, but the girl's father says wedding plans await the consent of the royal family.

The couple — Prince Basundhara Bir Bikram Shah, 36, brother of the King of Nepal, and Lynn Waldron, 22 — obtained the license Nov. 13.

The matter of the Hindu prince obtaining his family's approval was brought up Wednesday night in Cleveland by the young woman's father, George E. Waldron, a brewery company executive. He did not elaborate.

He said his only child met the prince while she was touring the nations to join 44 choir boy entertainers having soft drinks.

The White House staged the first of two dinners for the heads of 83 foreign missions.

Of the 78 guests Wednesday night, there were 10 "extra" men and Ambassador Menshikov was one of them.

The usually smiling Russian, looking a little glum, walked alone as the diplomats and ladies went two by two into the East Ballroom for an after-dinner musicale.

Man, 20, Is Held for Hoax Calls

GLENS FALLS, N. Y. (AP) — State police said today a 20-year-old man had admitted telephoning phony bomb threats to schools and hotels in the Glens Falls area, and turning in false fire and ambulance alarms.

He enjoyed hearing sirens and seeing red lights flash, troopers said the man, Wayne Morse of Glens Falls, explained.

Morse, single and unemployed, was taken into custody late yesterday after a listener tipped radio station WWSC in Glens Falls.

Morse was held for arraignment on a misdemeanor charge of wilfully committing an act that endangered the public peace or health.

Troopers said Morse admitted telephoning bomb threats to the Argyle Central School, the Queensbury Hotel in Glens Falls and the Kingsbury Hotel in Hudson Falls.

He denied, however, telephoning threats to the Queensbury Central School near Glens Falls or to the Ticonderoga schools.

Morse has been busy making phony telephone calls for 14 months, troopers said. Among other things, he ordered restaurants to send food to addresses that turned out to be false, they said.

Troopers said Morse made the calls from home while his mother was at work. He lived with his mother and a younger brother.

Pope Names Vagnozzi U.S. Apostolic Delegate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Archbishop Egidio Vagnozzi, 52, apostolic nuncio to the Philippines, was named today as the Vatican's apostolic delegate to the United States — the seventh since 1893.

He succeed Amleto Giovanni Cardinal Cicognani, who this week was created a cardinal of the Roman Catholic Church.

The new delegate was appointed by Pope John XXIII.

The apostolic delegate is accredited to the Roman Catholic Episcopate of the United States, not to the U. S. government. The United States has no formal diplomatic relations with the Vatican.

Red Envoy Is Glum, No Lady at Party

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov found himself in something of a lone wolf role at Wednesday night's White House state dinner for diplomats, with "no lady allocated for me."

Protocol seemed to be taking a backseat in other ways.

AND ONE STAYED HOME

Three Russians went to Stockholm. One Russian stayed home. The one who stayed home is the one the world will long remember.

The three who went to Stockholm jointly received the Nobel prize in physics. They had the blessing of the Soviet government, which was officially delighted that the world should thus learn about the superiority of Russian science.

But Boris Pasternak, the man who stayed home, did not have the blessing of the Soviet government. He was in official disgrace, and had been prevailed upon not to accept the Nobel prize in literature.

The official reaction cannot have been a surprise to Pasternak. He had a strong hint of what it might be as long ago as the summer of 1956. At that time he submitted "Doctor Zhivago" to the Moscow literary magazine, Novy Mir, and received a long letter of rejection which contained these prophetic sentences: "The spirit of your novel is that of non-acceptance of the socialist revolution. The general tenor of your novel is that the October revolution, the civil war and the social transformations involved did not give the people anything but suffering and destroyed the Russian intelligentsia, physically or morally."

That was a shrewd analysis of the import of "Doctor Zhivago." That is the reason for Boris Pasternak's absence from Stockholm when the Nobel prizes were given out. That is why Pasternak's novel, which is having a tremendous sale in the United States and elsewhere, will be a thorn in the Kremlin's side for a long time to come.

Results of the farmers' referendum indicates that there will be plenty of corn—as if that weren't already assured by the coming election campaigns.

CHRISTMAS HELPER

We don't like to think of the possible consequences if there were no women around to shoulder the responsibilities the holidays impose. The ordinary man reveals his incompetence in many fields, but never so much as when he attempts to shop, wrap packages, decorate the tree or prepare the centerpiece for the Christmas table.

And when it comes to schooling Junor for his role as one of the Wise Men in the P.-T.A. Christmas playlet, father is totally helpless. He is almost as big a blank as kitchen helper. All he can do with fruitcake is eat the stuff and pass judgment on its quality.

The wise housewife will push her helpmate out of the kitchen and set him to work on the Christmas cards. But ordinarily he doesn't know where the Christmas card list is and has forgotten to buy stamps.

With a great show of efficiency he tackles the job of putting up the tree; this is man's work. But he doesn't know where the tree standards and the lights are. In the attic, his wife says. He searches, without success. His wife gets them. She also tells him where to put the tree. Where would men be without wives?

Considering the big hit he made in England, Vice President Nixon's followers are beginning to wonder if he ought to run for office there instead of here in 1960.

A GOOD WORD FOR BAD WEATHER

Precious few will admit it, but winter wears one attractive face beneath its mask of bad weather.

That is its aspect of adventure. This is revealed, particularly to the suburbanite and, most especially, to the commuter.

Transported day after day from heated home to air-conditioned office by diesel or electric witchery, he's brought up with a jolt by a slashing attack of bad weather. The problems of commuting are spiced with a safe taste of adventure.

Slogging three blocks through the snow from bus or train to home puts him behind an imaginative dogsled under blazing Northern Lights.

Nowhere along the trail is he more than a few yards from the less romantic but more comforting light of alternating current in the homes that dot his path.

And, next morning, he has fine tales to tell over the morning coffee—if the office boy doesn't get lost in a snowplowed drift.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

LOST DAYS

One comes in for what is called a "check-up." The thing is a lark. Get yourself checked annually and make sure the doctor can pay his bills. Well, they find something. Then the fuss starts. Other doctors are called in. The real trouble is that all former records are gone. Mine, of course, would be scattered over many places. What do they really matter?

After all, if something has gone wrong, that is a fact, like Khrushchev is a fact. I'm in the hands of a stranger whom I have only known four or five days. I turn to the nurses as my source of information. They always know everything and having retained human qualities, they are to be depended upon. Of this little man who hops around in green pajamas and a white coat, they all talk as though he were a god. Maybe he is all that they say.

At any rate, he is an honest man. He has nothing to hide. He brings up his pictures and he shows what there is. An honest man is so rare. Also, he has no side. He is as humble as an angel.

My friends call to inquire. Each has his own life and affairs. They tell me that it has been snowing. I missed the first snow. I like the first snow. I like to go out into it with Joe. My daughter has taken over Joe. My wife looks after him. Poor Joe! He wonders where I am. Well, Joe, the old boy has something that needs as much attention as Nasser needs victories and Khrushchev needs publicity. The old boy is the center of attention—doctors, nurses, friends, they are all concerned. I am a big man today, Joe. They will stand around me, as though I were an emperor, trying to discover the source of all evil.

There is a nurse here whom they call Angelina. It is not her name. I have seen her face in many moods even when she smiles like Mona Lisa. She posseses the personality of power. No one knows her but everyone knows who she is and in her reposes the gift of confidence. She is sure. She will be there when they peer inside me for the source of all evil and perhaps clip it off.

And so what amounted to nothing has becme something, which is not unnatural in this life. The most casual events may becomé chains of incidents. But also as one lies here, waiting, the old question comes to mind: What is really important?

One cannot run from reality. Many believe that they can run away from reality. They fill their lives with all kinds of fantasies about themselves and their world but were they to be here waiting, they would know that they are little more than the tinsel that surrounds them.

The essence of life is a unity—God. No matter how the sectarians and separatists may try to tear many away from man and make us separate and different, the truth is that on that table under the fierce white light with little green creatures in masks cutting and probing, all that is there is a creature of God's mercy. It does not much matter who he is and how enormous he may think he is. Emperors, kings, presidents, workers, peasants, even slaves, they all become one—creatures of the flesh. Their differences melt away too. For God is one and man is one.

It may take many more centuries for our feeble minds to discover this, but we are making progress. It used to be that birth was a mark of superiority. Politics and science wiped that slate clean. Most of the kings are commoners and the few that remain kings have learned that theirs is a political not a biological distinction. It used to be that the rich regarded themselves as superior not because they could buy more but because they had more. Today, they can only gain distinction by giving away more.

We are coming closer to the unity of man even if the politicians believe that they can keep the world at war their little troubles to settle. But when the heart gives out or any other physical part goes wrong, the creature that lies waiting for the decision is not the colossal warrior. He is just a man and before him stands God.

Stuttering Child Needs Early Help From Experts

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

An enormous amount of research has been conducted on the subject of stuttering and other speech defects.

Stutterers, it is said, constitute one of the largest groups of handicapped people in the world. One estimate is that there are 15 million persons who stutter. Approximately seven out of 1,000 persons in the United States are believed to suffer from this speech defect.

Exactly what causes stuttering and most other speech defects is not known. Some believe that children may be born predisposed to speech disorders. That is, the difficulty is not inherited but the nervous constitution of some children makes them more susceptible to speech difficulties.

The sex of the youngster, and perhaps the race, may play some part. There are about four or five times as many boys who stutter as girls. It is said that more of the Caucasian than of the Negro race stutter.

The effect of forcing a left-handed child to use the right hand is probably not considered as important as it used to be. For example, Dr. Barbara, in a book on stuttering (Julian Press—$5.00) says: "Stuttering is not to be considered as an isolated disorder of the speech mechanism but as an outward expression of a more basic character disorganization."

The attack on speech defects, including stuttering, should come as soon as possible after such difficulty is first noticed.

It is important to get good advice, since the management of speech defects depends to a considerable degree on the understanding of the parents and what they do about it. Furthermore, there may be things in the home environment about which the parents may be unaware which can affect a child's speech.

Much has been learned about stuttering and other speech defects and their treatment during recent years. The results of proper treatment are often good. The stutterer or child with some other speech defect should get expert advice from one of the speech clinics spotted around the country.

Information on their location can be obtained from the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults, 11 South La Salle Street, Chicago, Ill.

Also, I should like to recommend the booklet on stuttering prepared with the advice and guidance of the American Speech and Hearing Association and available through the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults (address above).

Another source of information besides the book by Dr. Barbara is a book by Gottlober entitled "Understanding Stuttering."

It is important to realize that the youngster who stutters or has some other speech defect probably will not "outgrow" the difficulty by himself. Expert advice should be obtained as soon as possible in order to avoid handicapping a youngster unnecessarily.

Washington News

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — First business forecasts for 1959 start out pretty rosy, but there's a catch. It's the threat of creeping price rises and inflation.

Dr. Emerson P. Schmidt, director of economic research for U. S. Chamber of Commerce, says the 1958 recession is over. It was one of the shortest of 25 since 1854.

Dr. Schmidt predicts gross national product at the annual rate of 450 billion dollars for the last quarter of 1958—a record high. He says it will rise to 470 billion by the end of 1959 and cross the 500 mark in 1960.

The U. S. Chamber rounded up a panel of eight business experts for its annual forecast. Gloomiest of the bunch was George S. Eaton of Cleveland, executive vice president of National Tool and Die Manufacturers.

HE FORESEES ONLY a 15 per cent increase in business over 1958. This would still leave his industry 15 per cent below 1957, which was average for the previous five years.

It's chronic for machine toolmakers to sing the blues. Part of their complaint now is that auto makers aren't changing their models enough so aren't ordering new tools.

If major companies are planning new small cars, tool and diemakers haven't been able to detect it.

As for the auto industry itself, Harlan V. Hadley, Washington manager of Automobile Manufacturers Assn., says 1959 sales of 5½ million cars are anticipated.

This would make it a profitable year, though not even the industry's fifth best. Sales this year will be about 4.3 million. Estimates for 1959 may be upped in January.

THE CONSTRUCTION INDUSTRY, says William G. Dooly of Associated General Contractors, looks for a record 52-billion-dollar business in 1959, compared to 49 billion this year. Public contracts and residential construction are expected to rise, farm and industrial construction fall.

Steel production—in the face of low auto production and industrial construction — is estimated at 113 to 115 million tons for 1959. This is around 75 per cent of capacity. The record is 117 million tons in 1955.

For the consumer, stable prices are promised by both Wallace N. Flint, vice president of National Assn. of Food Chains and J. Gordon Dakins, vice president of National Retail Merchants Assn. Both also predict increased sales and profits, with record Christmas business.

Under questioning, however, the chamber's panel of experts admits many factors contributing to inflation.

THE STEEL INDUSTRY faces an increase in coal prices on the heels of John L. Lewis' new contract calling for a $2-a-day miners' wage increase.

In June the steel industry itself must negotiate a new wage contract. Steel management insists the line will be held. Mine and auto wage increases make that difficult.

Auto management and labor leaders have both tried to put over the idea their new wage contract is not inflationary because of their industry's rising productivity. But 1959 car prices average 4.5 per cent higher than in 1958.

The possibility of a new law raising minimum wages from $1 to $1.25 an hour will necessarily increase retail merchandising and service trade costs—then prices.

E. S. Adams, deputy manager for American Bankers Assn., foresees increased demands for credit in all fields, led by heavy government borrowing to cover the 12-billion-dollar budget deficit. The result will be a tight money supply with fluctuating interest rates tending to be higher on housing and consumer loans by the end of the year.

All these factors add up to the likelihood of creeping price rises and threats of greater inflation.

Ultimatum to Soviet Might Bring Showdown on Berlin

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Why did Premier Khrushchev start a crisis over Berlin? Why does he carry his nation to the brink of war?

The mystery has not yet been solved, and it may take a flat warning to the Soviet premier—that force will be used by the West—to bring a showdown.

Many people, of course, have been assuming that it's all a Soviet bluff and that no war could possibly ensue. History tells us that such wishful thinking is often wrong and that when war is least expected—after everyone assumes it isn't coming—something untoward happens that really forces the final crisis for everybody. Up to the day World War II broke out, there were confident expressions abroad that it just couldn't and wouldn't happen.

Most observers today rationalize that war would be too horrible for anybody deliberately to start. But with troops and nuclear weapons actually mobilized on a war basis by both sides in the vicinity of Berlin, a tragic incident could be precipitated at any moment.

Secretary Dulles has just said to the NATO Council in Paris: "I am quite certain the Soviet Union will not risk war over Berlin. Therefore we can proceed with confidence."

Comment: Reds Tougher

But it's Khrushchev's game to make the western allies think he will stop at nothing to get them out of Berlin.

For several weeks now the inside talk among high governmental officials here and in United Nations circles in New York has emphasized one comment: "the Soviets are getting tougher than ever before."

The technique of "toughness" is a familiar one in diplomacy. Dictatorships use it shrewdly as a means of bargaining. It is not at all risky to be tough with democracies—they are resilient to the influences of a public opinion which, wishing to avoid war at all costs, gives the impression of being willing to "negotiate" almost everything. This often implies a possible surrender.

One of the reasons why Secretary of State John Foster Dulles is so unpopular with the appeasers and peace-at-any-price exponents is that, through a lifetime of experience in diplomacy, he knows softness is dangerous and, in the end, would bring on the very war that everyone wanted to prevent.

Right On Quemoy

Mr. Dulles will be remembered in history as the "man with guts" who stood up to the Communists everywhere. He was jumped upon a few months ago by the timid and the partisanly political when he stood up courageously to the Communists in the Far East, refusing to be bluffed on the Quemoy-Matsu episode. Events since have proved he was right. The Communists didn't dare to precipitate a far eastern war. Little is being said now of the Dulles triumph in that part of the world, but it is the significant happening of the year 1958 in the international field.

It is worth noting, incidentally, that some of the same Democratic senators who could not understand what Quemoy meant as a symbol of freedom in the Far East are today saying with respect to Berlin that it cannot be surrendered because it is a symbol of freedom to Western Germany's Republic. Berlin is 100 miles within the iron curtain as contrasted with the few miles that Quemoy lies off the Red China coast. Almost every word being said generally now for holding Berlin was being said by the President and Secretary Dulles as an argument for holding on to Quemoy because of its importance to the cause of the Chinese Nationalists.

Mr. Dulles is confident that, if the West maintains a firm policy with respect to Berlin, the Communists will be dissuaded from precipitating a general war. Everyone here hopes he will be proved right, but the world knows little of what is back of the Khrushchev move and just what strategy he has in mind. It is asserted, for instance, by Senator Humphrey, Democrat, of Minnesota, who talked recently with the Soviet premier, that the presence of the "Island of Berlin" in the middle of Iron Curtain territory is a thorn in the side of the Communist leaders and they want to get rid of it. But this is only another way of saying that the Soviet government considers East Germany a permanent part of the Soviet Union and that there is no intention ever to agree to an autonomous Germany unless it is in the form of a satellite like Poland.

Must Create Impression

The Soviet premier undoubtedly has internal troubles and must every now and then create some tension with the outside world so as to emphasize his own supposedly heroic leadership in defying the non-Communist countries. But with so many different nationalities involved in the Soviet Union, it is difficult to see how patriotism can be exploited effectively there. Indeed in 1917, in the middle of World War I, the Russian people and their allied nationalities broke away from the central government, preferring a separate peace to continued support of a tyrannical regime. Maybe if war does come, it will be the signal for revolution inside Russia. Khrushchev may be a skillful demagogue but, like Hitler, he can bring the house down on himself if he risks armed conflict with the West.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

Fire Chief Captain Joseph L. Murphy, retired, stopped in to pick up material on the powder horn. We talked some about old-times, and when horses were used in the fire-department. I had the "News from Home" a colorfully illustrated magazine put out by the Home Insurance Co. and Home Indemnity Co. of New York City. The Autumn 1958 issue covers old fire engines, which Captain Murphy enjoyed looking at. One in colors on the front cover reminds me of the old time classics Kingston used to bring out in parades. The picture was of New York's old Engine Co. No. 15 which I think was an antique during the Erie Canal Celebration of 1825 when she was placed on a wagon and drawn by four horses. There are many interesting pictures and write-ups about the past, one is the inside of the old fashioned grocery store, with gentle folks sitting peacefully around a stove. "Look how peaceful things were in those days." Captain Murphy remarked. No one seems to have time for the warmth, and courtesy today, that was part of everyday life in those days.

Mrs. Weaver stopped in today, her son is the well known star of West Point sports, Big Ed Weaver of several years ago. Mrs. Weaver and myself attended the little school house in Port Ewen so we talk of old times when we meet. In those days Port Ewen was a small village. It was a thrill to buy penny candy at Crook's Store which is Van's Drug Store today. I used to go to Jump's Market which used to carry yard goods and I would buy some pretty material for doll clothes, while my grandfather picked up his mail across the street in the Post Office. No one hurried, everyone had time to pass the time of day and say "Hello!"

In reading the material sent to me by the Architect of the Capitol, Washington, D. C., on John Vanderlyn it proves again how important it is to discover the "gifted" child. If, Aaron Burr, hadn't brought his horse in to a blacksmith (in Hurley I think,) when John Vanderlyn was working there. If John Vanderlyn had not drawn an excellent sketch just for pleasure with, I think a bit of burnt wood or charcoal on the door, if Aaron Burr had not been versed in arts and a patron of art, John Vanderlyn might have remained just a blacksmith, perhaps even an excellent blacksmith. All these things had to happen with exact timing so that John Vanderlyn could be "discovered," to be sent to Paris to study and later to become a foremost portrait artist of his day to have his paintings hang in the rotunda of the Capitol of the United States. Was Kingston excited about him or his art? It did not seem to be. I have turned pages and pages of the newspapers of the 1850's and can find hardly a word about him. It took an outsider to find him.

Now with our million dollar school houses and the rush to discover the "gifted" child they should discover many of them, that is if the teachers are talented themselves and can spot talent. In my time if you could draw, or talk a foreign language, or have other abilities or talents few teachers cared. In fact some even resented it instead of encouraging those students. I saw gifted fellow-students hide their talents because of it. Time shows that a gifted child in later life did not always show a high honor score while in school.

Matter of FACT

Asbestos has been known for centuries. In ancient temples it was used for torch wicks and to protect altar fires. The Romans used it 2,000 years ago for winding sheets to preserve the ashes of the dead when bodies were cremated. However, it was only the very rich who could afford such a ceremony and it was only after the 19th century that its price was reduced to the point where it could be used for fire prevention and fireproofing.

Ossining to Proceed With Creche Display

OSSINING, N. Y. (AP)—A committee of Ossining residents led by Acting Mayor Jessse Collyer decided Wednesday night to proceed with plans to erect a Christmas display on the grounds of Ossining High School.

The group, called the Ossining Creche Committee, has asked the school board for official approval.

Last Tuesday, State Supreme Court Justice Elbert T. Gallagher ruled at White Plains that the Ossining school board could display the creche on the school lawn again.

A group of Ossining citizens, who had protested the display, announced they would appeal Gallagher's ruling.

They argued that the religious motif of the Nativity scene conflicted with the separation of church and state principle and would have a harmful effect on non-Christian students.

A decision by the school board is expected at its meeting tomorrow night.

Talks Will Resume In Plate Glass Strike

CINCINNATI (AP) — Federal Mediator H. J. Montoney called negotiators back into session today in an effort to settle a strike of 13,000 employes of Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co. in 11 cities.

The strike started Oct. 6.

Negotiations here started Tuesday. Striking employes are represented by the United Glass and Ceramic Workers Union.

Montoney declined to say whether any progress had been made in the sessions here.

"Nothing new," was his only report.

Previous negotiating sessions in Miami, Fla., Cleveland and Louisville, Ky., failed to bring about a settlement of the contract dispute. It is reported to center around reclassification of workers' duties and reduction of the size of work crews.

Packs Receive Ribbon Awards

Winning Cub Packs were presented ribbon awards at Monday night's Kingston District Roundtable earned at the recent Cub Rally at Municipal Auditorium.

Pack 4 sponsored by Fair Street Reformed Church received first; Pack 13 sponsored by School 7 P-TA, second, and Pack 12 sponsored by Old Dutch Church received the third place ribbon.

Jay Souers, cubmaster of Pack 16, Marbletown Reformed Church, Stone Ridge, accepted the plaque and ribbon for meeting its goals in 1958.

Troop 9 of Redeemer Lutheran Church received its home safety seal for completing that part of safety training.

Robert Tremper, assistant district commissioner, led the scout leaders roundtable in plans and program. A winter hike on January 10 and a merit badge show in February were set up.

Assistant District Commissioner Gordon Craig Jr. and William Sill worked with the cub leaders in developing plans for cub window displays during Scout Week.

Charles McDermott, exploring chairman for the council, met with the Explorer Cabinet on development plans for this new program.

Scouters brought children's presents to the roundtable to be turned over to the Recreation Department for the Christmas parties.

A further safety effort for this year will be the distribution of car stickers suggesting "stop for a coffee break." These were given to leaders for distribution by scouts.

Rifleman Admits His Bullet Set Off Coast Blaze

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, Calif. (AP)—A young rifleman has admitted firing an incendiary bullet which touched off California's worst brush fire of the year.

Investigators said Jerry Stewart 21, was target practicing on his father's ranch near here last Sunday and failed to note one of the bullets was incendiary.

The shell set dry grass ablaze. Stewart said he tried to beat out the fire but it spread quickly in the rolling hills near this historic mission village. No charges have been filed against him.

The fire now has blackened more than 60,000 acres and destroyed 17 cabins and homes. More than 2,000 fire fighters are battling it. They hope to control the blaze sometime Friday.

The fire moved south onto the Camp Pendleton Marine reservation but caused no damage.

Dollar Income Up, Buying Power Is Under '57 Level

WASHINGTON (AP) — Although the dollar income of Americans will set a record in 1958, real income in terms of buying power has declined from 1957 because of inflation.

The Commerce Department said personal income for the full year will exceed 353 billion dollars, up more than five billions from 1957.

But it observed: "With consumer prices about 2½ per cent higher and personal tax payments substantially unchanged, real purchasing power did not quite match the 1957 aggregate."

Morgan, Guaranty Trust Will Merge

NEW YORK (AP) — A famous name in American financial history, J. P. Morgan & Co., will undergo a slight alteration as a result of a merger.

The Morgan firm will be merged with Guaranty Trust Co. to form Morgan Guaranty Trust Co. of New York. The new institution will be the fourth largest bank in the nation on the basis of capital, assets and earnings.

Both banks are known as "wholesale banks" rather than retail banks. Wholesale banks act as banks for businesses and other banks rather than going in for such consumer items as personal loans. The merged bank will continue as a wholesale bank.

Henry C. Alexander, Morgan chairman, will become chairman and chief executive officer of the bank.

Alexander said the reason for the merger was the growth of the country and its business and commerce.

EAL Strike Is Hard Blow to Miami Resorts

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The Eastern Air Lines strike, now in its 24th day, is costing Miami area resort men an estimated six million dollars a week.

The grounded Eastern planes normally bring 177,000 passengers to Florida during December. A company spokesman said only 15 per cent of these can be handled by other airlines serving the state.

Eastern flights were halted Nov. 24 when flight engineers and machinists walked out over wage demands. The machinists have reached a tentative agreement but are polling the union's membership on its provisions before deciding whether to return to work.

The engineers and company are holding separate conferences with a federal mediator on their dispute. A company spokesman said there was no progress whatever Wednesday.

Man Arrested Who Disappeared After Apalachin

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — Sam Lagattuta, Apalachin delegate, is in jail today after a disappearance from Buffalo of nearly a year.

The 62 - year-old housepainter was arrested Wednesday by two State Policemen in plainclothes who sighted him in a parked automobile in downtown Buffalo.

Soon after his arrest, Lagattuta was served a subpoena summoning him before the U. S. Senate Rackets Committee in Washington.

Lagattuta disappeared some time after the Nov. 14, 1957 gangland convention at the Apalachin home of Joseph Barbara Sr.

His absence was discovered early this year when he was unsuccessfully sought for an appearance before a federal grand jury investigating the underworld meeting.

After he was arrested he was charged with vagrancy. He pleaded innocent and was held in jail unable to raise the $25,000 bail ordered by City Judge Casimer Partyka.

Officials said he would probably be served with a new summons for a federal grand jury appearance. The state investigation commission also had attempted to subpoena him.

No date has been set for his Washington appearance.

CALERA, Okla. (AP)—After a breakdown of several days, Calera's water pumping machinery was repaired and Water Superintendent Andrew Hamilton threw the switch. Chrysler Strike Now in 17th Day

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler's Dodge Main plant strike, accompanied by new layoffs, dragged into a 17th day today.

The new layoffs, affecting about 900 Detroit and Indiana workers, brought Chrysler's total idleness in the nation to 43,630. This was more than half the company's total normal employment.

Negotiations in the Dodge Main production-rates strike of 7,100 employes continued today. Wednesday's effort failed to bring an agreement.

Chrysler, blaming a parts shortage from Dodge Main, laid off 750 employes at the Detroit forge plant. Another 160 were laid off at the forge plant in New Castle, Ind.

Strikes in November Idled 14,310 Workers

Strikes during November, 1958, directly involved 14,310 workers, Industrial Commissioner Isador Lubin announced today.

A total of 47 stoppages, involving 9,050 workers began during the month. An additional 34, involving 5,260 workers, were in effect as the month started. During November, 50 of these stoppages, involving 8,315 workers, were settled. The available working time lost because of stoppages during the month was .09 per cent, or 83,400 manhours.

At the month's end there were 31 strikes still in effect, involving a total of 5,995 workers.

Two strikes, each covering 500 or more workers, were in effect at the end of November. Some 3,800 machinists struck Trans World Airlines on November 21; 800 machinists and flight engineers walked out at Eastern Airlines on November 24.

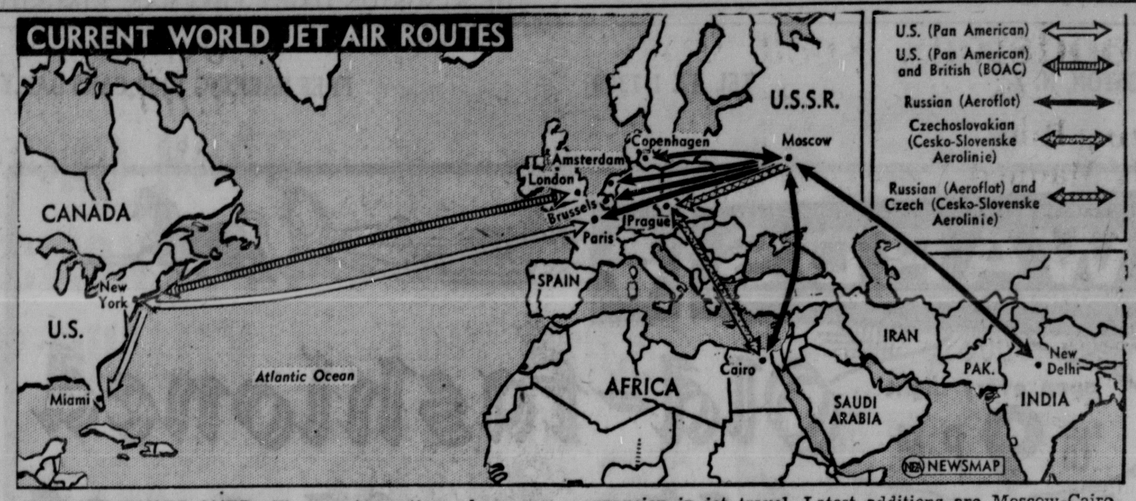
Piers Are Burned

New York City's waterfront fire guards load old wooden piers and pilings on barges atop an undercovering of sand, tow them out to sea and burn them as waste. Then they dump the ashes overboard.

ALL BALLED UP—Balancing neatly on one leg, a crane tucks its head among its feathers at a zoo in Chessington, England. Could be that the bird is shy, or else just doesn't like to be photographed.



THE JET TAKES OVER—The growing pattern of commercial jet airways around the world is shown in Newsmap above. Four nations currently are operating regular passenger jet airliners—U.S., Britain, Russia and Czechoslovakia. Oldest regularly scheduled service is that between Moscow and Prague (since 1956). Moscow-Copenhagen run was added in 1957. All other runs came into being in 1958, a year of big expansion in jet travel. Latest additions are Moscow-Cairo and New York-Miami. The latter, the first domestic service in the U.S. is operated by National Airlines, using Boeing 707s leased from Pan American. To be added by June, 1959: American Airlines and TWA — across U.S.; Air France — Europe-Africa; British Overseas Airways — London-Tokyo; and Scandinavian Airlines — Europe and Middle East.

USHERING IN THE JET AGE—Drawing above portrays the three great passenger jet airliners currently in operation in Europe, the Middle East and, lately, in the United States and on transatlantic runs. The jet era was pioneered in 1952 by an ill-fated earlier model of the British Comet. The latest version was the first to begin transatlantic flights in October, 1958. The Tupelov 104, used by Soviet and Czechoslovakian airlines, began Prague-Moscow runs in 1957. The Russian plane now connects Moscow with major European cities and with Cairo, Egypt, and New Delhi, India. Going into transatlantic operation shortly after the Comet was the American Boeing 707, under Pan American's flag. Daily round-trip service between New York and Miami has just been begun by National Airlines, using a 707 leased from Pan American.

Should Tour in Service Come Ahead of College?

BY FAYE HENLE

It is the law of the land for young men reaching the age of 18 to register for selective service.

What effect will military service have on a young man's higher education, on his nonmilitary career, on his earning power?

Should he serve with the armed services before he starts college, or before he looks for that first job?

These questions recur endlessly, prove that few of us know the facts relating to the military service law.

The law says registration at 18 — not service — although the 18-year-old may volunteer for two years of service. Under the current law, each man has a six-year obligation to the military. The inductee or volunteer who has served actively for two years joins the reserves for the balance of this period.

Throughout the U. S. today selective service is not calling the lad of 18. The law states that, working backwards from 26 years, men will be called. Right now the 22½-year-olds are being asked to serve with the following exceptions:

If a young man is in the midst of completing his college education, taking a full-time course at a recognized school, most probably he will be deferred.

Medical students are not being called. It is hoped that upon graduation they will seek commissions. If too few doctors do this, they will be inducted, but probably not until they have completed their internships.

Married men with children or pregnant wives, where military service would cause an extreme family hardship, are not being called.

Currently there are several ways that military service can be met. This gives considerable leeway in planning for higher education and earnings needs.

Men can join the Reserve Corps, serving six months on active duty for training with either the Army Reserve or the National Guard with the remaining 5½ years spent in the Ready Reserve. This entails drilling once a week, 48 times a year, and two weeks on active duty each summer.

The Ready Reserve may be called into action only by the president. This differs from the Standby Reserve, where there is no training, and which can be called out only by an act of Congress.

Students attending land grant colleges who have served for two years in the Reserve Training Corps can get credit for military service by taking the junior and senior ROTC training. Upon graduation they become officers and enter active duty for a two-year period when called by the service concerned.

Additionally available is a Marine Corps platoon leader course wherein two summers are spent training with the Marine Corps. Upon graduation the trainee becomes an officer, serving for six years with the reserve, including two or three years on active duty.

Still Time . . .

man of the Board of Assessors of the Town of Rosendale for six years, told a Freeman reporter Wednesday that he was the "only town taxpayer" to attend the special meeting of the town board last Monday evening. At that time, Majestic presented the experience of his town in purchasing road oil through state contract.

Kallop said he had stated at the meeting that the taxpayers' money should "stay in Ulster County" and not go to New Jersey or some distant point. In order to keep local industry busy and provide jobs locally, Kallop said, the taxpayers' money should be spent here.

Opposing this statement was Joseph Reid, Rosendale hotelman, who Kallop said had expressed the opinion that the town should buy from the state regardless of whether or not the money remained in the locality or went to New Jersey.

Feels State Competes

Asked by Kallop whether the town was not required by law to advertise for bids for road oil and items in excess of $1,000, Supervisor Mollenhauer stated that if the purchases were made through state contract it was not required that bids be sought.

Kallop said he felt this was a case of the state competing with its own taxpayers. He said he did not feel that the Town of Rosendale was "subsidizing" any oil company when oil was purchased locally, it was "just a plain business transaction." "We are buying oil," he said and he objected to a statement made to the effect that purchase of oil from a local concern was "subsidizing" that company. Local industry must be supported if local people are to remain in business and continue to pay taxes, Kallop indicated.

Denies Challenge Made

Furthermore, a statement that Town Superintendent of Highways John "Charlie" Markle had issued a general challenge to go out in the backyard with anyone, during the discussion at the special meeting, was denied by Kallop.

"A statement was made in regard to 'kick-backs' by one of the officials at the meeting," Kallop stated and Markle had challenged that statement, which was attributed to Justice of the Peace William P. Curran (D). Kallop said that Markle had directed a statement to "that official" and said that if it was being inferred that he, Markle, might be implicated in any kickbacks, "there is a back door" in the hall.

Kallop indicated that the meeting Monday evening was well filled with "political" implications by a "certain member" of the board.

Skating Rink Fully Manned

A full skating program properly supervised by authorized personnel was announced today for the Andy Lee Memorial Field rink by Kermit Schwarz, chairman of the Recreation Committee.

Schwarz also pointed up the playground rule which stipulates that all children up to 8 years of age must be accompanied by a parent when skating.

Milt Combs will supervise skating from 4 to 6 p. m., with Bill Hutty taking over from 7 to 9:30 p. m., except on Wednesdays. Carl Van Wagenen has been hired for the two-week Christmas vacation period and will be on duty from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Nick Gentile will be in charge of the playground concession serving coffee, hot dogs and other nick nacks.

Schwarz also explained the permanent rules which are that skating is not authorized by the Recreation Commission unless the yellow ball is "up." Schwarz said minor complaints have been received about annoying tactics by some of the boys.

"We cannot police the rink around the clock," said Schwarz, "and consequently there are periods when boys congregate at the rink on their own. We can't stop that and the Rec Committee is not responsible unless the yellow ball is up."

Puppet Show Proves Big Hit at Onteora

More than 350 persons attended the Onteora P-TA-sponsored puppet show "The Story of Dick Whittington" at the auditorium of the Onteora Central School in Boiceville.

Proceeds of the event went to swell the Scholarship Fund which topped the $400 quota that had been set this year to be given as an award to a deserving Onteora graduate.

Girl Scouts of Intermediate Troop No. 86 of Boiceville (Mrs. Arthur Henke I, leader) and Troop 88 of Bearsville (Mrs. Richard Haberstroh, leader) served as ushers. A committee headed by Mrs. Gordon Anderson sold refreshments in the cafeteria following the performance.

Dick Myers' show drew repeated rounds of applause from an audience of all ages and was climaxed by his drawing the curtains at the end to show the behind-the-scenes secrets of the way in which the puppets, scenery and props are manipulated.

Committee chairman, Noelle Gillmor, and co-workers, Mrs. Malcolm Rose and Donald Munro, thanked the "many residents, with or without children at Onteora, the business firms and businessmen who acted as patrons and contributed so generously toward this Yuletide gift to the children of our communities."

Harriman Says Authority Lacks Aid for Oswego

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — The state lacks authority to help Oswego pay expenses of fighting a prolonged attack by snowstorms, Gov. Harriman said today.

The Democratic governor said the Republican-controlled Legislature was responsible for the situation.

Harriman said the Legislature twice had rejected bills he submitted to set up a permanent system for providing emergency relief to communities.

Mayor Vincent A. Corsall of Oswego has requested state financial assistance to meet expenses of fighting the storms, Harriman said.

The governor did not say whether Crosall had specified any amount of aid.

Oswego has had more than 100 inches of snow in recent weeks.

The state provided snow-removal personnel and equipment to help the city.

Harriman said the same disaster-relief proposal previously rejected would be introduced in the 1959 Legislature as part of a Democratic program.

Under it, the state would have authority to give financial aid to local communities during emergencies.

The governor said the aid to Oswego could still be given if the bill were adopted.

Farm Production Makes New High Record for 1958

WASHINGTON (AP) — Production on American farms reached a new record in 1958, the Agriculture Department reports.

The department said Wednesday the total volume of crops was 11 per cent above the previous record, set in 1948 and matched in 1956 and 1957.

The 1958 production was 118 per cent of the average for the base years 1947 to 1949.

Unusually favorable weather from planting through harvest, coupled with advanced farm technology, made the high production possible, the department reported.

The 1958 output will add to surpluses of many crops.

The department gave these figures for farm production in New York State:

Corn—Average yield of 50 bushels per acre, total production of 33,400,000 bushels.

Oats—52 bushels per acre, total production of 31,980,000.

Dry beans — 1,150 pounds per acre, total production of 131,100,000 pounds.

Potatoes — Long Island, 24,500 pounds per acre, total production of 894,200,000 pounds. Upstate—20,000 pounds per acre, 780,000,000 pounds total production.

Coya Is Not Bitter; May Run Again

WASHINGTON (AP) — Coya Knutson kicked off her high-heeled pumps, put on some old comfortable flats and avowed she had no bitterness or sorrow in defeat.

A House committee had decided against investigating further her complaint that she lost her bid for re-election to Congress from Minnesota because of a malicious conspiracy.

Sees Hand of Foes

The 45-year-old Democrat contended political foes were behind her husband's widely publicized "Coya come home" appeal.

"Of course you feel hurt, you know," she told a reporter who came to her office Wednesday after the five-man special House committee decided unanimously "no further action is warranted" in the case.

"But I've had a lot of rough things in my life — you can't sit down and feel sorry for yourself, she said. "Sometimes the more you get kicked around the more you can do."

Mrs. Knutson said she knew the demands of public office when she was elected to Congress in 1954. She was re-elected in 1956, but was defeated last month by Republican Odin Langen.

"I know what a woman is up against in a job like this," she said. "I went into it with my eyes open."

Hints '60 Campaign

Mrs. Knutson said she may take her case to the voters two years from now, in the 1960 election.

She also said she might ask the new Congress in January to investigate. Her chances with such a formal contest seemed slim.

In its report, the special committee, set up to consider election complaints and check on campaign spending, agreed that "exploitation of the family life of the Knutsons was a contributing cause of her failure of election."

But the committee said it found no direct evidence involving Langen in any conspiracy to capitalize on the Knutsons' marital woes. Langen has said he did not mention those Knutson troubles in his campaign.

But husband Andy Knutson told the committee two days ago that political opponents of his wife duped him into issuing the "Coya come home" plea.

In the interview, Mrs. Knutson declined to say whether she and her husband are living together now. "That's a personal question," she said.

The ceremony took place at Andrews Air Force Base.

Agee is commander of the 26th Air Division at Stewart Air Force Base, Newburgh, N. Y. The division directs air defense for much of the Eastern Seaboard.

Mrs. Agee, a secretarial employe of the Aeronautical Training Society, is the daughter of a Philadelphia contractor.

Water Group May Stop Business With $430,000 Unpaid

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — The Northwestern New York Authority may go out of business owing the state $430,000.

The authority was created in 1950 and given a state loan.

Its job was development of a water-supply system for municipalities in Niagara, Orleans, Genesee, Monroe and Wayne Counties.

Niagara and Monroe counties have made plans for their own systems independently of the authority.

The Niagara plan, approved last Monday, includes Niagara River waters the authority had planned to use. The Niagara County system will serve most of the customers the authority had proposed to serve, including some in Orleans County.

Casimir J. Zygmont of Niagara Falls, chairman of the authority, said Wednesday night the agency would decide whether to ask the Legislature to dissolve it.

The authority also will consider the possibility of staying in business and trying to meet remaining water needs in the rest of the five-county area, he said.

He did not specify when he would call a meeting of the five-member authority to reach a decision.

Under state law, the authority must pay off its debts before the Legislature can dissolve it.

The water authority spent the state funds for financial, engineering and legal services, offices, salaries and other operating expenses.

A total of $150,311 had been paid by the end of last year—for consulting services—to Charles H. Sells, public works superintendent during the administration of Republican Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, and Leon H. Wendel of Lockport.

Plans drawn for the authority will be turned over to Niagara County for use in its planning, an authority spokesman reported.

Watch Your Step, Bud

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—Anyone who walks through a park in this city is violating a law. Rules for the city's parks for the last 45 years have said: "It shall be unlawful for any person to go through any park or part thereof as a shortcut from one place to another."

Love of Daughter Often Can Take Harmful Turn

"When I spent hard-earned dollars to educate my daughter," writes a mother, "I didn't expect her to pay me back.

"But I thought, as I am alone, that she would stay with me until she found someone to marry and give her a home of her own.

"Instead, as soon as she found a good-paying position she moved out a few blocks from me. I'm quite hurt and have told her so. She told me it is just that she wants to be on her own and to grow up.

"Am I old-fashioned in thinking she should live with me, even though she is over 21?"

It isn't a question of being old-fashioned. It is a question of not wanting to let go of your daughter.

Didn't you educate her so that she would learn to think of herself and be independent? Then why feel hurt that she wants to break away and lead her own life?

And if you really want her to have a husband and a home of her own, you should realize that it is important for her to break away from you now.

Most of the unmarried women of 40 and 50 are the ones who stayed home with Mama long after they should have taken themselves out from under the parental roof.

And there is one other thing. If you want your daughter to feel close to you, don't put on a hurt act whenever you want to try to influence her. The more you try that, the more she'll feel the need to get away from you.

Let her have her freedom gladly instead of forcing her to fight for the freedom that is her right as a grown woman.

You'll end up better friends that way. For the love and attention you receive from your grown children is that which you don't demand.

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Some doctors now estimate that if Americans would cut their intake of fat foods by 25 per cent, the number of hear' deaths could be cut in half within 20 years.

At one time, Turks and Arabs reckoned their wealth by the number of fat ladies they kept in their harems.

Did you know that 80 per cent of U.S. drivers aged 60 or more have problems with their vision? Which reminds us of a recent query by Robert Q. Lewis: "Has anyone heard about the flea trainer who became an elephant trainer—because his sight was failing?

No Quick Wedlock

Although people are marrying younger, they don't necessarily plunge headlong into wedlock. More than 87 per cent of marriages are still preceded by an engagement period, and 62 per cent of the engagement rings are given at Christmas.

One way to avoid fires is to go to church. Last year churches had only 1.05 fires per hundred buildings, compared to 2.65 for colleges and 5.6 for restaurants and taverns.

Housewives who can't decide when to buy Christmas turkey won't get much help from supermarket and grocery store advertisements this week.

Some stores offer gobblers now while others will unveil their special prices early next week.

Other Good Bargains

For housewives who don't want turkey there are special bargains on pork loin, hams, leg of lamb and holiday items such as rock cornish hen and Minnesota goose. The shopper who wants to save a bit now in preparation for next week can usually find chuck roast.

Lamb prices are four cents a pound lower in some areas this week while other meats are about unchanged. Eggs reversed their recent trend and rose two to eight cents a dozen over a wide area.

Bumper supplies of soybean oil, cottonseed oil, peanut oil and corn oil have pushed shortening prices down to their lowest levels since January 1956 Department of Agriculture seers say supplies of winter vegatables will be substantially greater than last year, assuming more normal weather, particularly in Florida. Canned vegetable supplies will be slightly larger than last season and frozen, however, will be considerably above the average of recent years.

Vegetable Buys

Outstanding vegetable buys this week are potatoes, radishes, topped beets, turnips and parsnips. Good buys are sweet corn, eggplant, endive, escarole, iceberg lettuce, mushrooms, sweet potatoes, spinach and Idaho potatoes.

Nearby cabbage prices rose sharply this week, but still were rated a good buy as are onions.

Apples are at bargain levels.

Florida citrus is moderately priced despite the annual moratorium on shipments, a move designed to clear abundant supplies on hand early in the season. Limes and avocados are reasonable, along with California citrus and Northwest pears.

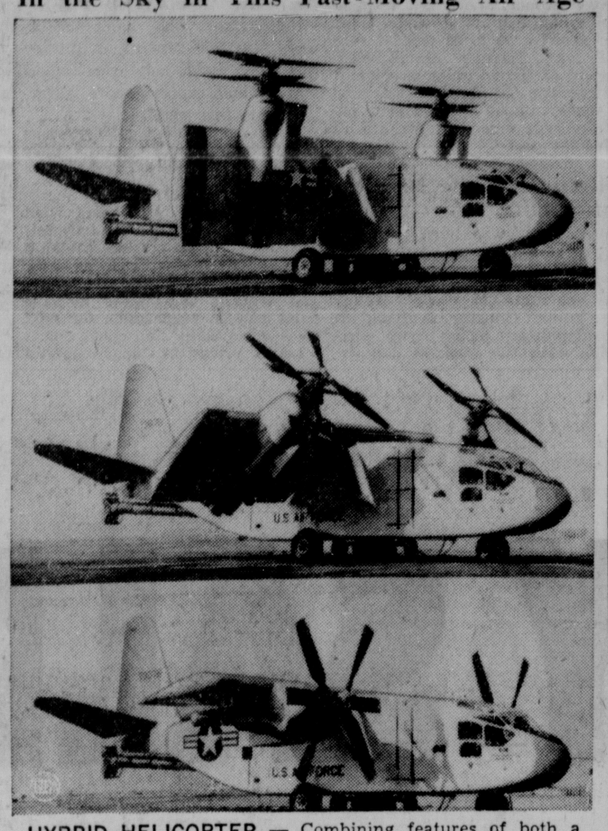
Picture Record of New Shapes Appearing In the Sky in This Fast-Moving Air Age



HYBRID HELICOPTER — Combining features of both a helicopter and a conventional airplane is the recently unveiled Hiller X-18 "Propelloplane." Picture sequence above shows its operation. With wings at a 90-degree angle, top, it can rise straight up. As wings are tilted into level position, center, it becomes a normal-appearing plane, bottom. The 16½-ton research transport, powered by twin-engine turboprops, is due for its first flight in April.

Call for Wrecker Brings 3 Charges, One on Car Theft

A young man, who, police said, called a wrecker after damaging an allegedly stolen car early today, was booked this morning on a grand larceny charge, and two other counts.

Arraigned first today before Justice of the Peace Arthur Reilly, Town of Ulster, on charges of leaving the scene of an accident, and driving without a license, Clifford Walter Weeks, 25, of 100 Main Street, was later booked by state and local police for the alleged car theft.

Found on Route 28

Raymond Howe, of West Main Street, Port Ewen, told local police early today that his 1955 Pontiac had been taken from the Gulf Service Station, North Front Street. He discovered it missing, he said, at about 12:10 a. m. It was reported located off Route 28, West Hurley, later this morning.

Weeks who, police said, had been employed at the gas station from where the car was reported stolen, was picked up at about 9 a. m. today on Washington Avenue near Lucas, by two state troopers, Charles Teelon and George Gaines, Officers Charles McCullcugh and Albert Hutton.

Justice of the Peace Reilly, before Weeks was booked on the larceny charge, imposed a sentence of $90 or 90 days on the charge of leaving the scene of an accident, and $10 or 10 days for driving without a license.

Police said Weeks had called a wrecker from Rudi's Service Station, West Hurley, after the car, driven by him skidded into trees on Route 28.

Weeks is due to appear before City Judge Aaron E. Klein tomorrow on the first degree grand larceny charge.

Work of Art

A 15-foot high cast iron gate taken from the entrance to a Paris subway station is one of the exhibit's at New York's Museum of Modern Art. It was made about 1900 and is considered a work of art.

West Germany

Germany's emergence as the West's major continental military power was contained in the report that for the first time Germans will produce missiles. They will work with France and Italy on antiaircraft missiles which probably will be equipped eventually with nuclear warheads, informants said.

Defends Contributions

French Army Minister Pierre Guillaumant defended his country's sparse contribution to NATO defenses. He said France would do its best to fulfill its European role but it has many overseas obligations and is "holding the flank of NATO," meaning North Africa.

De Gaulle suffered a blow in failing to win support for his hope of joining the United States and Britain in a guiding directorate for NATO. The Premier is seeking to win for France the authority of a major power, but Washington and London are leary of antagonizing other NATO members and partially tying their own hands without getting anything in return.

U. S. Agrees to Visit By Premier Mikoyan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States promptly agreed today to a Soviet request for Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan, a close associate of Nikita Khrushchev, to visit Washington early next month.

Bitter Fight Is

Ark), an avowed moderate on segregation, by about 1,200 votes.

The committee's Southerners, Chairman Clifford Davis (D-Tenn) and Robert Jones (D-Ala), agreed the election should be investigated. But they said Alford should be seated pending the outcome of the inquiry. This, they said, would be in line with past procedure.

The Southerners were outvoted by Representatives Thomas O'Neill (D-Mass), Kenneth Keating (R-NY) and David Dennison (R-Ohio).

Publisher Pushes Challenge

The formal challenge to Alford's election came not from Hays but from John F. Wells, Little Rock publisher of a weekly newspaper.

Wells told the committee there were numerous irregularities in the vote. He said stickers used by the Alford write-in voters were illegal, and that there were more votes than listed voters in some instances, and that Gov. Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas and others conspired to unseat Hays.

Hays said that since he is not contesting the election, "it is the simple question of whether it was an honest election."

Hays will be honored tonight at a dinner to be attended by high government officials, church leaders and others.

Agent at Red Parley

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—A Nationalist Chinese agent was present when the Chinese Communist party's Central Committee decided not to nominate Mao Tze-tung for re-election as president, a Taipei newspaper reported today.

The English-language China News, an independent daily, said the informer was present as a devoted, high-ranking member of the party.

The newspaper said the agent had news of the decision radioed to Taipei only hours after it was made.

Yule Buying

gomery Ward's seems continually full of cars.

Henry Singer of Singer's Department Store, 60 Broadway, reported that he was "quite happy" with the progress of Christmas business, that it seemed to be holding up very nicely. He thinks his store is running a little ahead of last year. Singer's has been in its present location for the past 45 years.

Favorable Downtown

Singer said he had talked to other downtown merchants and that comments, in general, were favorable.

August Foerschler, proprietor of Rowe's Shoe Store and chairman of the retail committee of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce, injected a somewhat more cautious note, pointing out that some merchants have reported gains, others were hopeful that the last few shopping days would bring them up to last year's record level.

He said most of the merchants seemed to be holding their own, as compared with last year, but that there was "nothing sensational about it."

"Altogether, things look pretty favorable," he concluded.

The Associated Press survey around the country of business leaders revealed that:

Most are confident of beating last year's record totals (thanks in part to slightly higher prices and an extra shopping day). But few see anything that resembles a real boom.

"There's more cash in town this year," says Charles E. Boyd of the Detroit Chamber of Commerce, "but people aren't spending the money."

Texas Real Bright

Brightest spot on the 1958 Christmas retail scene is Texas.

"There's no doubt but that the buying public has the money and a disposition to spend it," declares a merchant in Fort Worth. "To say business is good is putting it mildly, for if it gets any better it will be terrific."

And an Abilene, Tex., store official states: "If it was any better I don't know what I'd do."

Christmas business is good in Denver. High on the list of wanted merchandise are such relatively costly items as stereophonic hi-fi sets, pianos, organs, outboard motors and boats.

Area Not Sure

But in Cleveland, Pittsburgh and New Orleans, merchants hope to match last year's sales but are not sure they will.

In the nation's biggest city, New York, the 1958 Christmas shopping outlook is a giant question mark. A newspaper deliverers' strike robbed New York stores of their major sales promotion medium right at the peak of the Christmas rush.

Big retailers say they've been doing as well or better than last year but they're comparing current business with a brutally tough 1957 period when traffic was snarled by a subway strike. Most say telephone and mail order business — which amounts to 15 per cent of total Christmas sales — is down sharply.

Store traffic held up fairly well in the early days of the newspaper blackout but declined as the strike entered its second week. Another strike-inspired problem: How to get rid of specially priced gift items the stores had intended to push via spectacular sales campaigns. Warehouses are bursting with merchandise of this type.

Conway to Give Oath to Rocky

State to Have First Inaugural Ball Since Dewey's Second Term

NEW YORK (AP) — Tentative plans were announced today for the inauguration of Gov.-elect Nelson A. Rockefeller in Albany on New Year's Day.

The ceremony will be held in the State Assembly chamber in the Capitol building. It will be followed by a reception in the Executive Mansion and an inaugural ball in the Washington Avenue Armory of the National Guard.

To Take Oath Dec. 31

The inaugural ball will be the first since that of Dec. 31, 1946, celebrating the start of the second term of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey.

Rockefeller will take the oath of office at a private ceremony on New Year's Eve.

The tentative plans were announced by the Republican governor-elect's temporary office here. It said that former Govs. Dewey, Herbert H. Lehman and Charles Poletti had been invited and were expected to attend.

The oath of office will be administered by Chief Judge Albert Conway of the Court of Appeals.

The formal procession into the chamber will include state senators and assemblymen, judges of the Court of Appeals and members of the Board of Regents.

Honorary Escort Set

The honorary escort will consist of uniformed members of the Veterans Corps of Artillery of the City of New York, the Old Guard of the City of New York and the Citizens Corps of Troy.

Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz, Comptroller Arthur Levitt and Lt. Gov.-elect Malcolm Wilson, accompanied by outgoing Lt. Gov. George B. DeLuca, will follow.

Harriman and Rockefeller, escorted by a military staff, will be announced by the sergeant-at-arms, Clark K. Wilson, confidential clerk to Assembly Speaker Oswald Heck.

The Most Rev. William A. Scully, Roman Catholic bishop of Albany, will deliver the invocation. The Rev. Dr. Richard E. Hanson, pastor of Union Church of Pocantico Hills at Tarrytown, will pronounce the benediction following Rockefeller's inaugural address. Rabbi A. Allen Steinbach, president of the New York Board of Rabbis, will read the scriptures.

967 Seats Available

The announcement said there would be 967 seats available in the chamber plus standing room. Seats will be assigned the Rockefeller family, friends, and state officials.

Others participating in the ceremony will be Tammany Hall leader Carmine DeSapio, outgoing secretary of state, and Mrs. Caroline K. Simon, incoming secretary of state.

The 41-member New York City Ballet will present its "Stars and Stripes" ballet at the Inaugural Ball.

Paris telephones have a service for baby-sitters or dog-walkers.

Opening lead—♠ A

Dr. Norman Godfrey of Austin had a sound bid and rebid and there was nothing wrong with his partner's raise.

West's double looked pretty good to West and theoretically East and West have two aces and two trump tricks but things did not work out quite that way.

West opened the ace of spades and shifted to the ten of clubs, covered by the jack, king and ace.

Dr. Godfrey played the ace of trumps and was slightly, but only slightly, staggered when East showed out. He led his singleton diamond and went up with dummy's king. He was pretty sure that East held the ace, but had nothing to gain by playing the jack.

Sure enough East won with the ace and led a second club. The doctor won; ruffed his last club; ruffed a diamond in his own hand; took his king of spades; ruffed a spade; ruffed another diamond; and led his last spade.

By this time, West was down to three trumps and one of his trump tricks had disappeared into thin air. He could ruff low and let North's ten make or he could ruff high and lead up to South's king-nine combination.

The man is a success who has lived well, laughed often and loved much; who has gained the respect of intelligent men and the love of children; who has filled his niche and accomplished his task; who leaves the world better than he found it, whether by an improved poppy, a perfect poem, or a rescued soul; who never lacked appreciation of earth's beauty or failed to express it; who looked for the best in others and gave the best he had. His memory is a benediction.—Robert Louis Stevenson.

Florida Ceded to U. S.

In 1821, Florida was ceded to the United States by Spain. This transaction ended a 300 year period in which Florida was used as a pawn by European nations. Florida was purchased by the U. S. for almost $6,000,000 and an adjustment of the territorial boundaries between Spain and the U. S. in the southwest.

Eddie—When I left for Europe, I wanted to be very smart so I figured the company would be extra careful with my baggage so I marked all the trunks —"With Care—China."

Jimmie—Did it have any effect?

Eddie—I don't know. They shipped the whole business to Hongkong.

The warden of one of the more advanced types of prisons began to feel sorry for one of the inmates—a friendly enough fellow except on visitors' day. Then while most of the prisoners received kinfolk and such, this man stayed alone in his cell.

One visiting day, the warden called him into the office.

Warden—Ben, I notice you never have any callers. Don't you have any friends—or family?

Ben—Oh, sure, but they're all in here.

Mark Twain tells us: "When I was a boy of 14, my father was so ignorant I could hardly stand to have the old man around. But when I got to be 21, I was astonished at how much the old man had learned in seven years.

Kingston Library to Exhibit IBM Collection of 25 British Artists

Drumcliffe Races

BY JACK BUTLER YEATS—Born in Dublin. Son of the late John Butler Yeats, academician of the Royal Hibernian Academy, and himself an academician. Educated privately at Slingo. A genre and landscape painter who in large measure limits his subject matter to the life and scenes of Eire, his native land. Feels that an artist who paints as he does, "out of himself, freely," should remain undated.

The public is invited to view an outstanding collection of some of the foremost paintings from Great Britain on exhibit at the Kingston City Library. These paintings are a part of the permanent fine arts collection of the International Business Machines Corporation.

The art exhibit will be displayed from Monday, Dec. 22, through Friday, Jan. 9.

The exhibit will offer art lovers a rare opportunity to view the work of the leading artists in the British Isles today whose works are exemplary of the trends in contemporary British art.

The paintings range in landscapes, portraitures and still life studies, from realism to surrealism and abstraction.

Part of Goodwill Program

The paintings in this exhibit, purchased in 1944 for the collections of the Fine Arts Department of IBM, were selected in London under the personal supervision of Sir Charles Tennyson and Lady Tennyson to help further a project undertaken by the Central Institute of Art and Design on behalf of British artists in carrying through an Anglo-American goodwill program. For the most part, the paintings were chosen for what they revealed of current trends in painting in the British Isles.

The assembling of these works was the direct outgrowth of the assembling and exhibition of art by contemporary Americans throughout the British Isles, put into effect in 1944 through the cooperation of American artists, members of "Artists for Victory."

The collection was exhibited for the first time in the Dominion of Canada, at Mount Allison University, followed by engagements in Canadian museums and galleries, before being shown in the United States at museums, colleges and other institutions.

25 Artists Listed

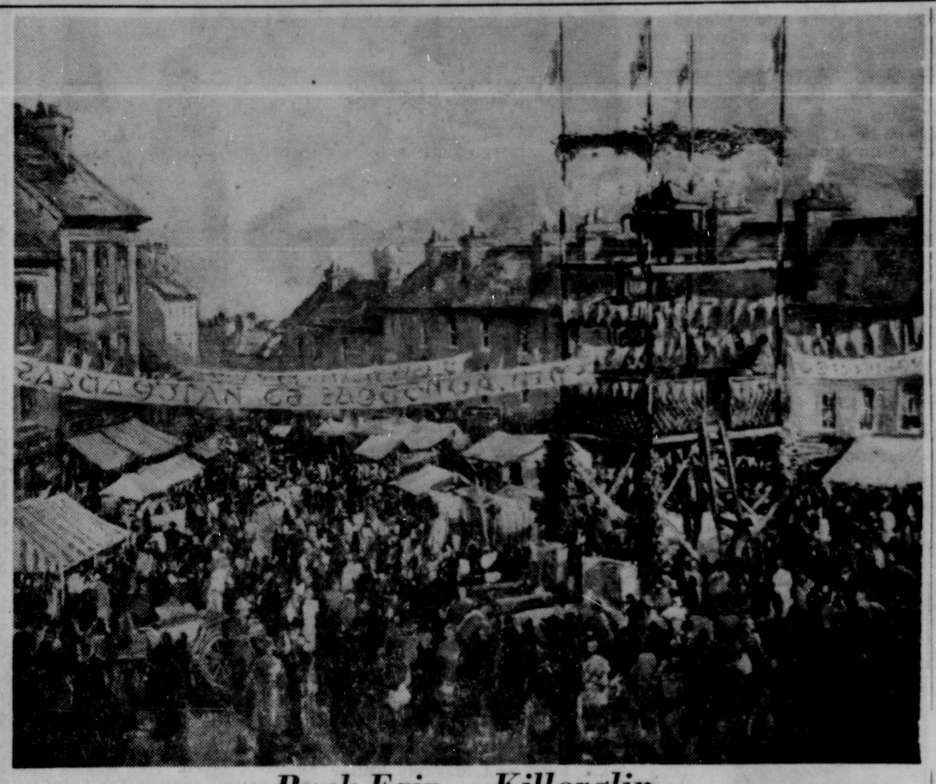
Twenty-five artists are represented in the group: E. Beatrice Bland, Sir George Clausen, Charles Conder, Philip Connard, John Constable, Charles Cundall, Anthony Devas, William Dring, Duncan Grant, Tristram Hillier, Henry Lamb, Edward Le Bas, William MacTaggart, Cedric L. Morris, Sir Alfred J. Munnings, Paul Nash, Ben Nicholson, Sir William Nicholoson, Sir Joshua Reynolds, George Romney, Matthew Smith, Stanley Spencer, Philip Wilson Steer, Edward Wadsworth and Jack Butler Yeats.

Lady John Townshend

BY GEORGE ROMNEY — Born 1734 in Beckside, Dalton-in-Furness, England. Forsook carpentry work in his youth for painting. Obtained commissions for portraits at the age of 20. Six years later went to London and fast acquired recognition. Immortalized Lady Hamilton, his favorite model. In mid-career concentrated on historical and fanciful subjects. Ranks among the greatest portrait painters of the English School.

Lord John Townshend

BY SIR JOSHUA REYNOLDS —Born 1723 at Plympton, England. Apprenticed to a portraitist at age of 17; at 20 began to receive commissions. Went to Itay in 1749 for further study. Three years later established himself in London and soon rose to supremacy. He painted nearly 3,000 portraits. A founder of the Royal Academy and its first president.



Puck Fair — Killorglin

BY CHARLES CUNDALL — Born 1890 in Stretford, Lancashire, England. Studied at the Manchester Art School, Royal College of Art, Slade School, and then in Paris. A landscape and figure painter. Has traveled extensively on painting tours in France, Sweden, Italy, Spain, Canada and the United States. An excellent draftsman; often turns to etching.

Producer Milk Prices Top Support Levels

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Agriculture Department survey showed today that producer prices of milk used for manufacturing purposes have been running above the government's price support level this marketing year.

On April 1, the support rate was cut from $3.25 to $3.06 a hundred pounds. But prices, the department said, have averaged about 11 cents above the support level since that time.

Officials said this was because excess supplies of such milk have been smaller this year.

Producer prices of butterfat have been averaging about 1 cent a pound above the support rate of 56.6 cents a pound.

The average price paid by dealers for milk used in fluid distribution started 1958 slightly higher than a year earlier. But since April, this price has been running a little below a year earlier. The average in early December was about $5.55 a hundred pounds, down 17 cents from December last year.

Asks Power Boost

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Communications Commission has received an application from Station WSNY of Schenectady, N. Y., for permission to increase its daytime power from 250 watts to 1 kilowatt.

The application was filed Wednesday.

Robber Walks Off With Bank's $3,200

NEW YORK (AP) — A robber exchanged a dollar bill for a roll of dimes at a downtown bank, produced a threatening note and walked away with $3,200.

The note, typewritten on the front of a deposit slip of the bank's regular checking account service, read:

"You keep quiet or gun you see will do it. Do as told and none gets hurt. Hand out $4,000 in 20's in package."

John Romano, teller at the Amalgamated Bank of New York, scooped $3,200 from his cash drawer and pushed it through the bars of the cage to the robber. He strolled out the front door and disappeared in crowded Union Square.

Utica Man Killed In Thruway Crash

AMSTERDAM, N. Y. (AP)—A 42-year-old man was killed today when his automobile, laden with Christmas presents, struck several guard posts on the New York State Thruway near here.

Nicholas Grande of Utica was alone in the car. He was fatally injured when he was thrown out after the impact, state police said.

Troopers speculated the car either skidded on icy pavement or Grande fell asleep at the wheel while apparently driving toward Utica. He was dead on arrival at Amsterdam City Hospital.

EMINENCE, Ky. (AP)—Martin J. Kahn has stopped stamping his firm's name inside hats the store sells. Seems every time one of Kahn's customers loses a hat, it's returned to Kahn.

HopesStatesWon't Touch Gas Funds To Make Balance

BALTIMORE (AP)—Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin today expressed hope that revenue-hungry states won't start dipping into gasoline tax revenues to balance their general fund budgets.

Such action, he said, "could mean disaster" for highway programs now being carried out by the federal and state governments.

The governor said in a speech prepared for delivery at the dedication of a new State Roads Commission building that he had read recently of a proposal in New York to increase the gasoline tax and use the extra revenue for non-highway purpose.

"I sincerely hope that Governor Rockefeller and the New York Legislature will see that this does not come to pass," he said.

"New York is our largest state—and a leader among the states.

"If New York were now to fly in the face of a well-founded tradition and open the coffers of road-earned revenue for the general purpose of government, I can see other states following the same example—taking the same easy but tremendously dangerous course toward balancing of general fund budgets. . .

"Every cent the roads can earn, at present rates of the increased rates that coming conditions may indicate, will be needed for roads—to build and modernize roads, to maintain them in first-class condition, and to police them for the ultimate in safety."

Police to Quiz Man On Geneva Holdup

GENEVA, N. Y. (AP)—Police Chief Joseph McDonough plans a trip to Long Beach, L. I., today to question a man who he says may have been part of a trio who held up a tavern here Wednesday.

He said the man was arrested Wednesday but declined to identify him.

A second man, caught when police surprised him during the holdup, faces arraignment today on charges of first degree robbery, grand larceny and illegal possession of a weapon.

He was identified as Robert Forbes, 24, of Long Beach.

The third man, shot through the waist by police as he ran from the tavern, was in serious condition in a hospital.

Through laundry marks on his clothes, he was tentatively identified as Louis Scaluzzi, 28, of Whitestone, Queens County.

Police said the three men robbed over 30 guests at a private stag party in the De Luxe Grille.

They said Forbes was carrying $1,400 in stolen cash when he was caught.

The robbery was broken up after police received a call for help from one of the guests who had slipped out of the building to a telephone.

Former Professor Dies

ITHACA, N. Y. (AP)—Frederick J. Spry, professor emeritus of civil engineering at Cornell University, died Wednesday at his home of a heart attack. He was 70.

He joined the Cornell faculty in 1924 and retired a few years ago.

Spry also had been an assistant city engineer at Auburn.

Deaths

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

CHICAGO (AP) — Dr. George Livingstone Robinson, 95, theologian and archaeologist, died Wednesday. He was professor of Hebrew and Old Testament at McCormick Theological Seminary from 1898 to 1939. He was born in New York State.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lora E. Clement, 75, former editor of the Seventh Day Adventist youth magazine, The Youth's Instructor, died Wednesday of injuries suffered when hit by a car Dec. 9. Since 1952 she was with the Review and Herald Publishing Assn., parent publishing house of the Adventist Church.

Seaman Is Presumed Drowned in River

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — A Great Lakes seaman was presumed drowned Wednesday night after he fell into the cold waters of the Buffalo River.

Shipmates identified him as Nelson Murmi, about 55, of Ashland, Wis.

He was a firemen aboard the steamer Emory L. Ford of Cleveland.

Police said he tumbled into the water from the edge of a slip where the steamer is moored for the winter. They said he was returning from a tavern with two crewmates.

A Coast Guard detail was attempting to recover the body.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—A while ago we reported the disenchantment of seven past and present prominent television dramatists with the medium. They expressed it to producer David Susskind in a TV interview.

Reply Is Eloquent

There comes now an eloquent reply to their views in a letter to this department from Frederick Hazlitt Brennan, a fine craftsman of entertaining fiction and the story editor and major script contributor to the TV series The Life and Legend of Wyatt Earp. Brennan writes in part:

"Despite the noble disclaimer of (the seven writers) that they abhor proselyting for a minority cause or trying to reform the cultural taste of 180 million Americans, these things are precisely what they are trying to do.

"Why? TV is a medium of mass entertainment. Sponsors, advertising agencies and TV producers have no obligation to uplift the cultural standards of the American people by means of propaganda disguised as social criticism, satire, 'worthwhile drama' or other intellectual snobberies.

Other Mediums Available

"TV writers who feel that they have a 'message' can write for special audiences by way of books, the theater, highbrow magazines, or even a few movie producers. TV is a medium of entertainment and public information.

"In actual practice, TV has done very well when it comes to freedom of speech and expression of opinion. A mass medium which allows Oscar Levant, Arthur Godfrey, Edward R. Murrow, Chet Huntley, the Rev. O. L. Jaggers and Bishop Pike to have their say cannot be accused of strict censorship.

"Comedians, politicians and college professors are allowed a wide latitude — usually on the somewhat dubious reasoning that they may provide entertainment.

Cultural To Some

"Once TV is persuaded that it should be a propaganda medium for cultural uplift, we are in for serious trouble. Who is to say what is cultural? One man's culture is another man's boredom. And who will decree what is uplifting? The Broadway stage? Mr. Paddy Chayefsky or Mr. Tad Mosel?

"Really dig this thing, Mercer. You critics may be tired of Westerns. But what if you were forced to watch a daily programing of intellectual snob dramas which dealt with the Negro problem, the Jewish problem, the Catholic problem, the Protestant problem, and the adjustment of frustrated longshoremen to the pansy gardens of beatnik ballet?

"Stay in there slugging, Mercer!"

Happy to have you in the ring any time, Brennan.

Matter of FACT

Cotton has been used for more than 3,000 years. As early as 1500 B.C., people in India raised cotton, spun the fiber and wove it into cloth. A thousand years later the Chinese were weaving fabrics out of cotton. At that time cotton was unknown in Europe. Wool was the common textile fiber there. When Europeans first learned of cotton, and for many years thereafter, they called it "cotton wool."

Elegant Lobster Tails Set Mood for New Year's Buffet

EXCITING setting for a New Year's Eve buffet. Lobster tail dish is one good resolution for any hostess to make.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

So—it's time to plan that New Year's Eve buffet. We, in this house, have decided on an elegant South African rock lobster tail dish as the anchor food for the midnight supper.

On the buffet there will also be vegetable relishes, sliced ham, liver pate and a cheese board with wafers and rye and French bread. Also, in a chafing dish, little cocktail sausages simmered in sweet vermouth. And, of course, lots and lots of hot coffee.

None of these foods requires much kitchen work, and can be prepared in advance. That means the hostess can greet 1959 in a happy frame of mind.

Lobster Avholemono

Blend together 3 egg yolks, ½ teaspoon salt and 1 tablespoon cornstarch. Slowly add 1 can clear chicken broth and ¼ cup French dry vermouth. Cook over low heat or in top of double boiler, stirring frequently, just until it comes to a boil. Remove from heat, stir about 20 seconds, then blend in 1 tablespoon lemon juice. Chill. Serve as a sauce with rock lobster tails which have been boiled according to package directions, chilled, then sliced or diced. This makes 1½ cups sauce, enough for 8 to 10 lobster tails. As appetizers, serve lobster meat speared with food picks; allow 8 to 10 bites of lobster for each tail. If served as an entree at dinner, allow one lobster tail for each serving.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Lobster Avholemono, rice, spinach, hot rolls, carrot sticks and radishes, spiced pear compote, coffee, tea, milk.

Real Big

HERMOSILLO, Son., Mex. (AP)—If there ever was any doubt as of the vastness of the Greene Cattle Co. ranch at Cananea, a headline in the Hermosillo El Regional settled it. When the ranch was expropriated by the Mexican government, the newspaper proclaimed in two-inch type: "At Last Cananea is Mexico's."

Prevents Freezing

Too much sugar added to desserts that are to be frozen in the refrigerator may prevent them from freezing or make them soft and mushy. Follow a reliable recipe and don't tamper with the amount of sugar called for!

Marilyn Monroe Loses Her Second Unborn Infant

NEW YORK (AP) — Actress Marilyn Monroe has lost her second unborn child in 16 months. The miscarriage was confirmed Wednesday night.

The 32-year-old blonde film star was reported recovering at her home here with her husband, playwright Arthur Miller, at her side.

But Joseph Wolhandler, Miss Monroe's personal press representative, said she was extremely upset over the loss of the infant. He said the actress' doctors determined she had lost her baby early this week, but that they did not set the exact time the miscarriage occurred.

Miss Monroe, who married Miller in 1956, was five or six weeks pregnent when she lost her first baby on Aug. 1, 1957.

Youth Council's Ice Skating Rink Condition 'Good'

The Saugerties Youth Council's ice skating rink at Cantine Memorial Park opposite the Main Street School opened its fourth season when the surface was termed in "good condition" by Vernon Joe Benjamin, sports activities chairman.

Youngsters of the community have been skating on the rink ever since the sub-zero weather. However the rink was recently scraped by William Voerg and his village street department crew.

Recent flooding by Saugerties Fire Department has given the rink a smooth surface, Benjamin reported.

The Youth Council is planning a skating party for the youngsters of the community some time in January.

Osina Heads Area '59 Celebration Citizen's Group

Alex Osina, announcer and radio personality of WSKN was named permanent chairman of the Saugerties Area Citizens Committee celebrating the 350th Hudson-Champlain anniversary, at a meeting held Tuesday night at Saugerties village clerk's office.

Mrs. Chester Glunt was named coordinator and secretary.

Mrs. Louis Francello was selected recording secretary; Dr. Richard Messina, treasurer, and John Lynker, president of Skylark Corp., publicity chairman.

Mrs. Glunt and Mrs. Francello represented the Daughters of the American Revolution. Dr. Messina represented the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Representatives of Saugerties Area Chamber of Commerce were Osina, Lynker, Nathan Aaron, Vice-President Myron Banks, Supervisor Peter Williams and Mayor George P. Holmes. Edward Hofler, president of the Jaycees was also in attendance.

It was decided that the citizens committee would act in an advisory capacity to all participating organizations. The committee will coordinate events to avoid conflicts in dates.

It was pointed out that the committee's function will in no way interfere in any organization's plans. It will furnish historical background and publicity aid to any who ask for it.

Tuesday, Jan. 6 and Feb. 3 the committee will conduct open meetings for representatives of all organizations wishing to participate in the 1959 celebration.

The committee will make every effort to attract national attention to the area.

Freshman Debaters Are Beaten in Debut

Saturday the 13th had all the omens of ill luck, for Saugerties High School freshman debating squad at Ossining.

Bruce Mundy, Charles Hall, Maureen Hurley, Mary Metzler, James Rapp, and Patricia Rapp were badly outclassed in the Eastern New York freshman tourney captured by the host school Ossining. Second place was taken by Liberty. Hudson rounded out the winners in third place.

In the Mid-Hudson freshman series a week ago the Sawyer freshman opened their debate experience at Newburgh and were badly mauled by squads from Arlington, Newburgh and St. Patrick's. While the trophy team was being shutout, Ronald Smith, Edith Mills and Dorothy Lorey were winning two out of three to give the Sawyers some solace. Other debaters representing Saugerties freshmen were Sharon Johnson, Marlene Carpino, Virginia Roeser, Francine Misasi, Robert Bern, Marita Stay, Michael Fury, Frederick Francello, Doris Post, Lynn Broome, Dorothy Haeussler, Florence McDermott, William Heidcamp, Frank Tiano and Larry Doud.

This year's freshman squad is under the direction of Paul Whiting. The December debates were the initial test of these students in interscholastic debate although members of the squad have participated in Student Congress and the October Speech Festival. Mr. Whiting was assisted by varsity debaters Malcolm MacKay, Paul Kruger, Carolyn Roeser, Nancy Overbagh and Charlotte Bell. Saugerties has never taken first in the December tourneys although they have finished second or third in the past three years.

Sawyer JV Debaters Second at Ossining

After a disastrous excursion to Albany December 6, Saugerties junior squads rallied to finish second in practice tourneys at Ossining Saturday.

The trip to Albany for a workshop and practice found the Sawyer squad overmatched against varsity squads making their debut from New Hartford and Burnt Hills. Saturday, regular JV members paired with new students trying out for National Forensic Membership and a place on the spring JV squad. Exceptionally fine performances were turned in by Malcolm MacKay, Nancy Misasi and newcomers Annette Haeussler and Mary Martino with records of two wins and one loss.

The sophomore delegation of Theodore Olsen, Patricia Sasso, Pamela LaPlante and Wayne Abbott was paced by the 2-1 record of the Abbott-LaPlante negative duo. Posting a 3-3 record was a third JV squad composed of David Overbagh, Gail Kellogg, George Popowicz and Michael Breen.

At Newburgh, December 6 another sophomore pair Robert Francello and Roland Mayone swept to three straight victories and drew praise from George Northrup, president of the Newburgh Board of Education, and last State Champion from Newburgh. The negative pair accompanying them, Pamela Hargreaves and Karen Fous were blanked in their initial 1958-59 effort and dropped the squad to third. Representing Saugerties at Albany were Charlotte Bell, Stephen Borner, Theresa Spada, Paul Kruger, Malcolm MacKay, Annette Haeussler, Wayne Abbott and Pamela LaPlante.

These practice tourneys and a possible series of matches in January are preliminary to the selection of junior-varsity and sophomore-novice squads to represent Saugerties in the State Regional Tournament at Albany March 20 and in the spring invitational tourneys. Saugerties varsity squads return to action February 7 in the NYU Hall of Fame tourney emblematic of Eastern New York Supremacy. Last year's runner up eliminated Saugerties in the April State Championship and went on to the National semi-finals.

The March 20th tourney permits each school to nominate one varsity, two JV and three novice squads. Three regular affirmative squads and two negative pairs are competing for the varsity role.

They are Nancy Overbagh-Carolyn Roeser 7-7, Malcolm-MacKay-Nancy Misasi 10-2, Charlotte Bell-Stephen Borner 9-3, Paul Kruger-Hannah McLannan 8-5, George Popowicz-Stanley Newkirk 9-8.

Monday Club Has Annual Yule Party

The Saugerties Monday Club held its Christmas party at Stroomzeit, home of Mrs. Herman Knaust this week.

The president, Mrs. Raymond Quackenbush welcomed the members and their guests. Among them were Mrs. William McVey of Kingston, Third District director of the Federation of Women's Clubs of New York.

After the singing of Christmas carols Mrs. Knaust introduced the program of song and story. Mrs. Herman K. Knaust sang "O Holy Night" and "Mary's Lullaby."

The meaning of Christmas was the title of the reading by Mrs. Dixon McGrath. Mrs. Herman Knaust read the story of the little donkey.

The program was presented near the softly lighted creche in the Knaust home.

Mrs. Roland Tonnesen of Mt. Marion at the piano played two gay Christmas numbers featuring the sound of bells. After the singing of more carols, Mrs. George Werner told the story of "The Lost Christmas."

Each person received a gift from the tree before going into the dining room where tea was served.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Milton Armstrong, Tries Terrace Monday, Jan. 5.

Methodists Welcome Three New Members

The congregation of Saugerties Methodist Church last Sunday morning, welcomed three new members into its fellowship.

Louis and Mrs. Dorothy Vogel of Woodland Acres, united with the church from Zion Lutheran Church on 63rd Street, Brooklyn.

Miss Beverly Mooers of Peach Lane, Windemere, joined the church on Profession of Faith.

The Sacrament of Holy Baptism was given to Robert Louis Vogel, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Vogel.

The sermon was based on "The Glory of the Lord," a theme indicating that Christmas is a time for catching and sharing the Glory of God as revealed in Jesus Christ.

Scouts Yule Party

The Boy Scouts and Campfire Girls of Saugerties are holding a dance at the Municipal Auditorium from 7 to 8:30 p. m. Friday. Refreshments will be served following the dance.

Socialite Denies She Slew Father

DEDHAM, Mass. (AP)—Socially prominent Miss Isabel Russell, 45, is charged with murder in the death of her father, a onetime wealthy business executive.

The body of Joseph B. Russell, 74, was found Sept. 1 under shrubbery at the family's palatial estate in Westwood, a fashionable suburb about 12 miles southwest of Boston.

Battles Officers

A medical examination report showed Russell's chest had been crushed and his back broken. It was not until Miss Russell was brought to court Wednesday that it was learned a police investigation had been under way.

Disheveled, and her hair stringy after battling with arresting officers, Miss Russell pleaded innocent before District Court Judge Gilbert W. Cox.

Before entering court, Miss Russell said: "I did not kill my father. I don't know what this is all about. The last time I saw my father was at midnight last September. The next time was when I saw him lying on the ground outside."

Denies Plea for Test

Her uncle, Richard Russell, former mayor of Cambridge and congressman, pleaded with the court that Miss Russell be committed at once to a mental institution for observation.

Judge Cox denied the plea and ordered Miss Russell jailed until a decision is made whether she should be held for grand jury action.

Miss Russell was arrested at a Brookline hotel where she and a sister, Frances, 48, lived since the father's death.

The victim was a former partner in the insurance firm of Obrion, Russell & Co.

The two sisters were the beneficiaries of their father's will. Although once affluent, he left only $55,000.

Marines Play Santa

EL TORO, Calif. (AP) — The Marines are playing Santa Claus for needy Navajo Indians because they remember what great fighters the Navajo Leathernecks were in World War II and Korea.

Marine transport planes flew 16 tons of food, clothing, medical supplies and Christmas gifts to Winslow, Ariz., Wednesday. They will be trucked to Ganado on the reservation.

The contributions were collected by 1,187 Marines and their families, high school students and Cub Scouts of El Toro Marine Air Station and the area surrounding this Southern California base.

Jan. 7 Fight Seems Sure Over GOP Senate Leader

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans are rubbing their aching heads. President Eisenhower probably is too. He's in the middle. What he seems to want is peace and harmony among Senate Republicans. He's getting the opposite.

A band of 10 rebellious Republican senators have teamed up to muscle aside the conservative Republicans who have been running their show. A fight looks certain Jan. 7, when Congress returns. The rebels may be outnumbered. In all, there will be 34 GOP senators in the next Congress.

Point to Elections

Sen. George Aiken of Vermont, 66 and no political chicken since he's been in the Senate 18 years, is leader of the rebels. They don't call themselves liberals. They indicate they think they represent the wave of the future.

They point to the November elections — which took a heavy toll of Republican conservatives — as proof the voters are fed up with conservative Republicanism.

For years the Senate Republican leadership has been in the hands of conservatives like senators Robert Taft of Ohio, William Knowland of California and Styles Bridges of New Hampshire.

When Taft died five years ago, Knowland succeeded him as Republican floor leader. Knowland was defeated this year when he quit the Senate to run for the governorship of California.

Bridges Still Powerhouse

But the 60-year-old Bridges, even more of a veteran than Aiken with 22 years in the Senate, is still very much a powerhouse. He's chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee.

Bridges and Knowland have differed a number of times with Eisenhower on foreign policy. But the rebels are not only trying to unseat Bridges as policy chairman and put one of their own number in his place. They're also shooting at Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois.

Dirksen, a Taft Republican and with a generally conservative record, wants to succeed Knowland as Republican floor leader, And he says he'll fight to get the job.

There's a little irony in this. Members of the Aiken group claim to be Eisenhower supporters. But Dirksen describes himself as a down-the-line Eisenhower supporter.

Ike Won't Take Sides

In recent years Dirksen has supported much of the President's foreign policy. Protesting against what the rebels want to do to him, he says "I have carried the flag" for Eisenhower "when the legislative going was rough."

Bridges, apparently very unhappy over this whole business, went to see Eisenhower Wednesday. He indicated the President had initiated the meeting. It's hard to see why, judging from what Bridges said.

He said Eisenhower "just listened" and doesn't want to take sides. There is something else hard to see too: If Eisenhower isn't taking sides, why didn't he see any of the Aiken group?

Aiken has said: "We haven't heard a peep from the White House but we would welcome some encouragement from there."

Dirksen was at the White House Wednesday, but on other business. Later he said he and Eisenhower didn't discuss the leadership fight.

American Samoa consists of six islands southwest of Hawaii.

JEREMY CHRISTMAS — A Yuletide Story — BY WALT SCOTT

GE Disappointed At Polls, Will Keep On Taking Stands

NEW YORK (AP)—Board Chairman Ralph J. Cordiner of the General Electric Co. says GE was disappointed with some results of the November elections.

But the company will continue to advance its program of taking stands on political issues, Cordiner told a year-end news conference Wednesday.

He said the company had supported right-to-work proposals that were defeated in several states.

The so-called right-to-work laws ban labor - management agreements to make union membership a condition of employment.

Cordiner said he was convinced that voters in states that rejected the laws did not favor compulsory unionism but had been led to erroneously believe that the laws were an attempt to destroy labor unions.

Cordiner also told the news conference:

1. A sound recovery in national business began in 1958 and will continue in 1959.
2. General Electric sales should show a favorable trend in the 4th quarter of this year and during next year.
3. The public can expect "spotty" price increases in electrical appliances in the coming year.
4. GE will spend 125 million dollars on capital expansion in 1959, the same amount it is spending this year.

Today's Business Mirror

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—With Christmas just a week away business firms have lined up today pro and con on the perennial holiday problems:

Business gifts to customers and suppliers; office parties; how long a holiday to grant; and what to give whom.

Some Open Friday

More office workers this year will have the day after Christmas off — possibly on the theory that they wouldn't do much work on Friday anyway.

But most banks will stay open and so will department stores. Many factories report that the recent increase in new orders makes it necessary for them to produce Friday.

The employes of the federal government and some state governments will have a four-day weekend. Stock exchanges will be closed Friday.

More people are saying bad things about office parties this year — both employes and employers. But the number of firms dropping them seems not to be large. A record number, however, are reported holding them outside the office itself.

Some Dropping Gifts

The practice of business firms giving presents also is under more fire this year, although few companies dropping the practice give the recent recession and its squeeze on earnings as the reason.

Some big companies are telling others they prefer their employes not receive gifts, and some are warning their workers about what they should accept and under what conditions. The practice of giving to charities in the name of friends of the business seems to be growing.

Gifts by business firms last year —including those to their own employes — has been estimated to have cost 288 million dollars. Some experts in the gift field predict a drop this year of around 4 per cent.

Giving Always Problem

What to give is always a problem. While the average business gift has been estimated to be valued at $10, some lavish ones are being touted.

A Miami Beach club that has 100 business firms as members is urging them to give their customers or associates membership good for a weekend, a week, a month, or even a year.

Foreign producers are profiting by the gift giving customs of Americans, both business firms and individuals. Importers estimate that retail sales of foreign merchandise this Christmas will run 5 per cent higher than last year. Even foreign toys have been selling better, although total toy sales have been off this year in most parts of the country.

Some dealers in foreign cars report that many of these items — expensive as Christmas gifts go, are being bought for delivery next Friday.

Modern Greek Drama

NEW YORK (AP) — Modern Greek dramas are to be shown on Broadway for the first time by James S. Elliott. Elliott last year took the first American acting company to Athens for performance of Greek classics, and while there became intrigued by the dramatic possibilities for U. S. audiences of works by contemporary Greek authors. He plans to present three short plays in a triple bill: "Requiem" by Nikos Kazantsakis; "A Face in the Daylight," by M. S. Crispis; and "Mister Cuckoo," by Jacob Cambanelli.

Church Universities

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — If universities related to the church are not maintained in a strong position, American culture will lose much of its religious tone, says the Rev. Dr. John O. Gross, head of the Methodist church's Division of Educational Institutions.

Birthday of Founder Will Be Observed By Hadassah Women

Local Hadassah members will join with chapters throughout the country Sunday, Dec. 21, in honoring the birthday of the organization's founder, the late Henrietta Szold.

Mrs. Murray J. Fletcher, president of the Kingston chapter, paid tribute to Miss Szold in an announcement today, pointing out that the birthday coincides with the 25th anniversary of Youth Aliyah, the rescue and rehabilitation movement which Miss Szold headed during her lifetime.

The daughter of a Baltimore, Md., rabbi, Miss Szold was born in 1860. As a young teacher and social worker, she visited Palestine and was shocked by the substandard health conditions throughout the country. Returning to the United States, she conceived the idea of an organization to cope with the problem and founded Hadassah in 1912. The organization now numbers more than 315,000 women in chapters throughout the United States, Alaska and Puerto Rico.

One year after the group was formed, Hadassah sent two American-trained nurses to Jerusalem to open a small health station for maternity care and treatment of trachoma, a dread eye disease. From this grew Hadassah's comprehensive program, which includes operation of seven hospitals, numerous community health services, the Henrietta Szold School of Nursing and the Hebrew University-Hadassah Medical School, the only such institution in Israel. A new medical center is now being built outside Jerusalem.

In 1934 Miss Szold, with the aid of German Jewish leaders, founded Youth Aliyah, which has rescued more than 85,000 Jewish youngsters from 72 countries and resettled them in Israel. In 1940 she sent this message to the children who were among the last to be rescued from Hitler: "You shall still live to build a future of peace and creativity. It seems to me that it is precisely you, the youth who came only recently to our ancient homeland, who have the capacity to withstand the evil and the tragedy that is inundating the world in our time. It is your destiny to do just this, since you have been the victims of this calamity." Miss Szold died Feb. 13, 1945.

Women Voters Are To Hear New York Representatives Here

Two representatives of the League of Women Voters of New York will be here Tuesday, Jan. 6, for a pre-organizational meeting connected with establishment of a Kingston League.

Mrs. William Denslow, field secretary for the state office, and Mrs. Bernard Slavitt, area organizations chairman, will conduct the session, slated for 8 p. m. in the library of George Washington School. Mrs. Robert S. Yallum is temparary chairman of the new group.

All area women interested in the formation of a local League are urged to reserve the Jan. 6 date and attend the meeting, since attendance will be an important factor in the state officials' decision on continuing organizational activities in Kingston.

Mrs. Yallum will summarize previous activities aimed at formation of a Kingston League of Women Voters, while Mrs. Slavitt will outline the program and policies of the national organization. Mrs. Denslow will explain League financing and the provisional period of a new group.

By-laws and nominations committees will be elected; also on the agenda will be the scheduling if an organizational meeting at which officers will be elected and a League program item for study chosen by the members.

Mrs. Denslow has been a member of the staff of the state L. W. V. for the past six years; prior to that she served as a member of the board of directors for the New York City League and as director of organization in Queens County.

Mrs. Slavitt, a resident of White Plains, is a past president of the league there and is chairman of organization for the area between Albany and New York City.

The League of Women Voters is a non-partisan organization, aimed at promoting political responsibility through the the informed and active participation of citizens in their government. Working through small discussion units, the League studies governmantal issues on the national, state and local level and informs the community of its findings through local media.

Women in the Woodstock area are reminded that a League is also being formed there; Mrs. Harry C. Lawson is temporary chairman of the group. Further information about the L. W. V. and its program may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Yallum or Mrs. Lawson.

Library Legislation Discussed at Meeting Held in Woodstock

WOODSTOCK—More than 30 persons, representing nine libraries in Greene and Ulster counties, met here Saturday at the Woodstock Library to study and discuss new New York State legislation affecting rural libraries.

Henry G. Shearouse Jr., Associate Librarian of the New York State Education Department, explained how small-town libraries can increase their importance in the community and gain additional state aid by participating in a library system.

"The isolated, independent rural library," said Shearouse, "cannot be expected to supply city-library service on a small-town budget. But, when the local library joins with other small libraries in the region, they form a larger unit which can provide many educational and recreational advantages. More and better books, recordings, films and foreign-language books are some of the benefits to be had through a library system."

Funds Available

This year's appropriation by Congress of six million dollars for distribution among the states to aid rural libraries, plus New York State funds, are available to back up cooperative library groups which are known as systems.

The purpose of both the Federal Library Services Branch of the United States Department of Health and Welfare and of the New York State Department of Education, according to Shearouse, is to equalize educational opportunities for city and country through improvement of library services in sparsely populated areas. Librarians and educational authorities, on the basis of experience in other parts of the country, believe that this can be done most effectively through the formation of cooperative library systems, the speaker said.

Other Area Interest

Mrs. Gerald Carson of Millerton, co-chairman of the Planning Committee of the Mid-Hudson Valley Library System, reported on interest in other parts of the 5-county area where library groups are considering formation of a system to serve Columbia, Dutchess, Putnam, Ulster and Orange counties. If all the libraries in these five counties join together in a system, state aid will be available in the amount of $100,000 for a one-time establishment grant and an annual grant of $192,229.

Mrs. Carson said that the library boards of Pleasant Valley, Pine Plains and Millerton already have voted in favor of a system. An area meeting on Nov. 14 in Fishkill was attended by representatives of Poughkeepsie, Carmel, Wappingers Falls, Cold Spring, Pawling, Beacon and Fishkill. Another meeting is being discussed for Columbia county.

The first reaction of any library board, naturally, is one of concern that the local library will lose its autonomy, Mrs. Carson added. However, she said, this fear is without foundation and she described libraries she had just visited in Monroe and Livingston Counties which participate in a system. They continue to run their libraries just as they always did but they have more books, more publicity, films and know-how to attract and serve the public. In one library, the circulation doubled after joining the system. And, she added, if a library doesn't like being in a system, it can withdraw. So far, not one library had done so.

Members of Committee

Members of the Planning Committee for the Mid-Hudson Valley Library System include Mayor H. A. Griswold, Fishkill; John Adriance, Poughkeepsie; Mrs. Hugh Davies and Mrs. Warren Briggs, Hyde Park; Mrs. Matthew Netter and Thomas C. Davis, Pine Plains; Mrs. Walter Davis and Mrs. John Parsons, Millerton. Worthy Pulver of Millerton is chairman. Mrs. Carson invited interested citizens as well as library board trustees in Greene and Ulster counties to become members of the committee.

Attending from Woodstock were Miss Isabel Doughty, Tobie Geertsema, Elizabeth Clough, Alf Evers, Abram F. Molyneaux and Frances Rogers.

Also attending were: Mrs. D. H. Rundell and Mrs. Eva R. Hoose, Greenville; Mrs. J. H. Clair, Mrs. John Sterley, J. R. Shultz and Miss Sarah B. Townsend of Kingston; Miss Ruth Glunt, Saugerties; Mrs. Richard K. Thomas, Hudson; Mrs. John C. Bagley, Paul T. Seller, Catskill; E. I. Dalby and W. J. Haviland, Marlboro; Dr. I. G. McKeon, Ben Gersoni, Herb J. Epstein, Phoenicia and Chichester; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. John, West Shokan; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Griffin, Pine Hill; Dr. Harry C. McNamara, Hurley.

Mrs. Max Cohn, president of the Woodstock Library, acted as chairman of the meeting. Following the meeting, tea was served in the library.

Miss Joan Cook, L. Benton Engaged

Announcement is made of the engagement of Miss Joan Cook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Cook of Plattekill, to Leigh Benton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Benton of Fostertown.

Miss Cook is a graduate of the Wallkill Central School, and is employed as secretary by the Newburgh branch of Sears and Roebuck.

Mr. Benton is a graduate of the Newburgh Free Academy, and Morrisville University, and has been employed by Griffen Jewelers for a number of years.

Lomontville

LOMONTVILLE—At the annual meeting of the Lomontville Fire Department recently, M. V. Bryant was elected president. Other officers are James Dunbar, treasurer; Edmund Kavanah, secretary, and John Hasenflue, chief.

The Ladies Auxiliary held a covered dish supper at the community hall Saturday. The supper was well attended and gift items were sold for the benefit of the auxiliary. Arrangements were under the direction of Mrs. Virgil Crisman III and Mrs. William N. Bryant.

Word has been received of the death of Nathaniel Heit whose Lomontville residence was "Colonial Acres" on the county road. Mr. Heit, a New York businessman, spent a great deal of time in Lomontville and generously supported many community projects.

Ease of Care Keys Neat Beauty

The stole is back in favor as an accessory. But this time, it's shaped rather than being a long, flat piece of fabric. It fits snugly on the shoulders and stays on. In addition, it's washable. Shaped black wool jersey stole (left) is wonderful for warding off drafts, takes nicely to gentle hand-laundering. Popcorn stitch knit stole (center) has fleecy look, is made of orlon yarn that washes snowy white again and again. The giant fichu in silk (right) provides flattery for the slim look of the sheath or Empire line. This one can be washed by hand with a pinch of starch in the last rinse water to restore that fresh, crisp look. It comes in lovely jewel tones that can turn a plain dress into a beauty.

TB Seals Are Still Available

Christmas Seals may be obtained for holiday mail and gifts.

There is still time to obtain more Christmas Seals for holiday mail and gifts. They may be obtained at Christmas Seals headquarters on John Street.

There are also self service boxes where the colorful Yule stamps may be obtained, located in the Central and Uptown Post Offices, and the Ulster Sub-station.

Miss Hazel M. Steed, executive director of the TB and Health Association, said a number of requests for additional seals had been received this week from folks. "It's not too late any time to join the thousands of Ulster County families who are helping to "double" the fight against TB by using the attractive two seal combination instead of one," she said.

"We are moving steadily toward solving the tuberculosis problem in our community," Miss Steed said, "and while great progress has been made, the end is not in sight."

Funds contributed through the Christmas Seals sale in Ulster County is spent to pay for medical research to find better ways to prevent and cure TB; education to build better health for our community; promotion of the search for unknown TB, through chest X-rays and tuberculin tests; services for patients at the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital and the Infirmary.

Of Many Things

Christmas in Britain

Visions of the wassail bowl, plum pudding, and yule log all come to mind when we envision Christmas in Britain. In the olden days, the wassail bowl, mixture of hot ale, spices and toasted apples, was prepared for friends. Before drinking, this greeting was exclaimed: "Love and joy come to you . . . and to your wassail too."

Although most of the brilliance of the Christmas holidays in Great Britain has been lost, there are many traditions still observed. One of them is the plum pudding. Plum puddings have always been associated with British Yuletide feasts. One superstition declares that a pudding eaten before Christmas brings bad luck. After the holiday, however, it brings good luck.

Every locality has its own traditional foods. In Ireland—or at least in some parts, they still indulge in drinking what is known as Lamb's Wool. It is made by bruising roasted apples and mixing the juice with ale or milk. This drink, together with apples and nuts, is considered indispensable on Christmas Eve.

At Queen's College, Oxford, the boar's head is carried in with the traditional carol: "The boar's head in hand bear I, bedeck'd with bays and rosemary. . . . And I pray you, my masters, be merry."

Another old folk belief is that "Twelve Days" between Christmas and Epiphany are a mirror of the next 12 months. Some people will eat a mince pie or plum pudding on each of the fateful days to insure good fortune and prosperity for the coming year.

Generally speaking, however, the British celebrate Christmas much the same way as we. The Christmas tree is popular, having also been introduced to England by the Germans. Christmas Eve is a time for children's parties. The high point of the evening is when Father Christmas (counterpart to our Santa Claus) rushes in with presents.

The Christmas season in England is one of the most happy holidays in the calendar year. It is the time to renew old friendships and bring families together.

Yuletide in England is also characterized by picturesque customs, old carols, blazing logs, holly and mistletoe.

The day after Christmas in England is known as boxing day. This is the day when folks gather to make up packages and baskets for the poor. A custom which, in a sense, is comparable to our Christmas baskets.

The Christmas Waits are another colorful part of the British Christmas. The Waits are a group of musicians and singers who travel about the town or village playing and singing popular tunes and carols. In return they receive coins. This custom originated in the Middle Ages.

History tells us that as early as 1400, regular companies of minstrels were attached to the kings' court. It was their duty to guard the streets at night and call out the hour. As recent as the year 1820, the Waits of London and Westminster had the official recognition of the city authorities, although, at that time, they were no longer attached to the king's court and only certain authorized minstrels were permitted to serenade the inhabitants of these cities.

Ireland, Scotland, Wales still retain some of their own peculiar customs, but they, too, are not observed to any great extent.

City Will Try Again to Get Land for Fifth Ward Sewer

A second move toward acquiring land from the New York Central Railroad needed by the city for a Fifth Ward sewer project was authorized by the Board of Public Works yesterday.

City Engineer Arthur F. Hallinan noted that he had received no response after giving notice that about 100 square feet of land in the Kingston Point area would be needed for the pumping station phase of the project. He and Mayor Edwin F. Radel were authorized to make further inquiry.

Land on North Street

A sewer system has been designed for streets in a low area of the Fifth Ward and a pumping unit will be necessary. The land sought is on the east side of North Street immediately south of Delaware Avenue.

The mayor and city engineer were asked to take whatever steps necessary toward completing negotiations with the railroad.

A tentative public works budget to be forwarded for the mayor's final compilation of the full city budget, was approved.

To Contact Aldermen

The board agreed to contact aldermen of the various wards before decisions are made on requests for new installations or changes in street lights.

Alderman James K. Ryan (D), 10th ward, made the request for such action at the last Common Council meeting and it was signed by the other councilmen. He asked that the BPW light committee "make a practice of setting up a meeting" with the aldermen involved, along with the light engineer of the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corp., whenever decisions are due on new installations or light changes.

A tentative assessment of $72,880.08 for pavement and curbing on Lipton Street and Amsterdam Avenue, was referred to the Common Council and corporation counsel. Property owners pay 75 and the city 25 per cent of the cost.

Payments Approved

Several payments to contractors were approved. They were: two to Joseph Gruner, of Highland, $2,947.80 and $3,608.25 for work on the Andrew Street sewer project; $5,222.26 to Anthony Costanzi, Kingston, for widening and paving West O'Reilly Street from the railroad bridge to Wilbur Avenue; $3,529.60 to James Berardi, Kingston, rebuilding of Ravine Street; two payments, $19,372.99 and $2,747.03 for rebuilding Johnston Avenue, and $781.69 to Gruner for the Van Gaasbeck Street sewer project.

May Raise Payment

Public Works Superintendent Charles J. Cole was authorized to investigate and revise the scale of repaving charges after sections of pavement are broken for excavations or other purposes by utility companies and others. It was noted that no change in the scale has been made in 20 years.

The board authorized replacement of a 100 candlepower light at Newkirk Avenue and Water Street with one of a 250 CP light, and a request for a new light on Delaware Avenue between Livingston Street and Broadway was referred to the light committee. The latter was requested by Alderman Lawrence Woerner (D) Fourth Ward.

Two Boys Apprehended For Station Damage

Investigation by railroad police of damage in the abandoned West Shore railroad station, and of the recent tampering with a signal switch in the building, led to the apprehension yesterday of two boys.

Charged specifically with the breaking of windows in the station, they were taken to local police headquarters, were questioned, reprimanded, and released in the custody of their parents.

It was indicated that they had not admitted to entering the building and pulling a switch, which, a few days ago stopped a train south of the station. The signal equipment in the station has since been removed and trains are now signalled by automatic controls activated by train movement.

Vatican Ceremony

20 Cardinals Get Red Hats

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Amid glittering and moving medieval pageantry, Pope John XXIII today placed the red hats of their high office over the heads of 20 of the 23 new cardinals of the Roman Catholic Church.

More than 35,000 cheering persons filled the vast Basilica of St. Peter for the glittering public consistory, the climactic event in the ceremonies this week which have increased the College of Cardinals to 74 men, largest in history.

The new cardinals approached the papal throne singly, hands folded in prayer. Their bright scarlet trains trailed nine feet behind across the green velvet carpet.

Cushing Is 10th

Tenth in order was one of the two new American cardinals, Archbishop Richard James Cushing of Boston. The other, Archbishop John O'Hara of Philadelphia, was 13th.

Each of the new princes of the church knelt quickly, kissed the Pope's slipper and then his hand. Each time the pontiff bent low to touch cheeks with the new member of the Sacred College.

Then for each, Pope John repeated this solemn charge in Latin:

"For the praise of Almighty God and the honor of the Holy Apostolic See, receive the red hat, the special badge of a cardinal's rank. By this you are to understand that you must show yourself fearless, even to the shedding of your blood, in making our holy faith respected, in securing peace for Christian people, and in promoting the welfare of the Roman Church. In the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost. Amen."

While the Pope spoke, two assistants held one of the broad-brimmed, flat-topped hats — the galero — over the head of the new cardinal.

Proceeds Quickly

The ceremony proceeded quickly, lasting about a minute for each cardinal. The vast throng was hushed and the pontiff's strong voice rang through the basilica.

Each cardinal moved away without his red hat. They will be delivered later in the day and will never again appear in public until the owners are dead. When a cardinal dies, his hat is placed on his catafalque and then suspended from the ceiling of his cathedral.

Seated nearby, in a row before the Altar of the Cathedral Chair, were the 23 previous members of the College of Cardinals now in Rome. Among them Archbishop Francis Spellman of New York. It was they who on Monday met with Pope John in secret consistory to give their assent to the new cardinals, the first event in the week's program.

Blesses Cardinals

After the ceremony of the red hat, Pope John gave his blessing to the cardinals and to the thousands in the basilica, then was borne out on his portable throne.

The new cardinals returned to the basilica altar, before the empty pontifical throne, for the final ceremony.

They prostrated themselves before the altar and prayed while the Sistine Choir sang a verse of the Te Deum (Hymn of Thanks).

Then, in the last act of the public ceremony, Eugene' Cardinal Tisserant, the dean of the college, recited a prayer over the still prostrate prelates.

All the cardinals then filed out to a concluding secret consistory with Pope John.

The three new cardinals absent today were Fernando Cento, papal nuncio to Portugal; Joseph Bueno y Monreal, archbishop of Seville, Spain, and the Vatican's nuncio to Italy, Giuseppe Fietta. They will receive the insignia of their office from the chiefs of states of Portugal, Spain and Italy following ancient custom between those predominantly Catholic nations and the Vatican.

The day's ceremonies began with the new cardinals taking their oath before French-born Cardinal Tisserant.

By EMILY POST

EARLY TRAINING

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I have a difference of opinion on the following matter which concerns the proper training of our three-year-old child. When our son has a young playmate in and he (the playmate) wants the toy our son happens to be playing with, my husband thinks he should be taught to give it up—claiming the fact that he is the host. I think it is very unfair to our child to expect him to give up his favorite toy out of which he gets great pleasure playing with, to this other child when there are any number of other toys he could just as well enjoy. I would very much appreciate your opinion on this matter.

Answer: Your husband is right; three is not too young an age to begin teaching your child to deny himself something that will give pleasure to his guest.

Displaying Wedding Presents

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it now proper to leave the cards on wedding gifts when these are displayed? My daughter said it was, but I can't believe it is good taste. Too many people go around just looking to see what the Joneses and Smiths and the Browns gave. They seem more interested in knowing this than in looking at the lovely presents. Also I think it rather makes people hesitate to send a present unless it can be something grand.

Answer: Wedding presents are displayed so that those looking at them will know who sent them. When they are so numerous that it is actually impossible to keep repeating who sent each, it is entirely proper to leave the cards on. In other words, when several hundred presents are received and these are displayed at the reception, cards are necessarily left on.

Hand in Hand

Dear Mrs. Post: My mother says it's bad manners for a man and girl to walk on the street hand in hand. I don't see why and she doesn't give me any reason.

Answer: It would not be bad manners in the country or on a beach, but on a city street it would show lack of sophistication.

* * *

Small weddings are popular. Mrs. Post has written leaflets E-8, "Today's Typical Wedding," describing the procedure. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP, in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G. New York 19, N. Y.

Signs New Sea Limit

PANAMA (AP) — President Ernesto de la Guardia has signed into law a bill extending Panama's territorial waters 12 miles out to sea. The limit had been three miles.

The United States, under its treaty with Panama, has jurisdiction over Canal Zone waters only out to the three-mile limit.

In the past the United States has refused to recognize any claims to waters more than three miles from shore.

These Are Wearable Empire Styles

Going on cruise ships and to sunny winter vacation spots are beautiful, shapely dresses like these. Designed to flatter, not conceal, the feminine figure, these designs are done in pure silk or linen by Oleg Cassini. Empire line appears in modified version (left) in dress of turquoise linen with satin ribbon defining bodice and waistline. The sheath with high waistline (center) is done in Italian silk; the colors are white, royal and pumpkin. Velvet ribbon is inserted at bustline. A third interpretation of the high waistline appears in this dress (right), a citrus yellow silk with bodice of re-embroidered ribbon lace.

Wohlgemuth Acquitted

KARLSRUHE, Germany (AP) —Dr. Wolfgang Wohlgemuth, who former West German security chief Otto John claimed spirited him to East Germany, was acquitted today of treason charges.

The West German Supreme Court said there was no evidence that the suave doctor's relations with East German Communists were treasonable or that he had kidnaped John.

John defected to Communist East Germany July 20, 1954. Returning after 17 months, he claimed Wohlgemuth drugged and kidnaped him for the Reds.

County Budget

thing about it. It is impossible to vote intelligently on it and I move to table the resolution for adoption of the budget," Turck concluded. He was ruled out of order on his motion to table since the vote was then being recorded. He then declined to vote on the adoption of the budget.

Supervisor Rapp (R) First Ward, and a member of the Welfare Committee, said the increase in nursing home costs had been discussed in the presence of Supervisor McCardle and he said they both had "asked questions" on items in the Welfare Department's request for funds.

Would Buy Through State

On the roll call Supervisor George Majestic (D) Gardiner, referred to several items in the Highway Department request and said a considerable sum of money could be saved by purchasing items through the state contract. He cited the difference in the cost of a road roller if purchased through State contract as contrasted with the amount specified in the budget as necessary to purchase that item locally. An item of $17,000 was in the budget and the State contract listed a price of $6,296. A Diesel grader listed at $20,000 in the budget could be secured for $8,998 from the state. Wagon drills listed at $4,000 each were listed at $2,009.13 under State contract. A truck and plow for which an appropriation amounting to $25,000 was listed in the budget, Majestic said could be bought from the state contract for $14,135. He also cited four highway mowers, in the budget for $15,000 which cost under the state contract $2,043 each. Dump trucks at $5,000 each he said could be bought through the state contract for considerably less and he cited other items.

Majestic said on the $85,000 equipment item in the budget, a saving of $42,000 could be made. He also said road oil should be purchased under the state contract. Objection was also made to the $50,000 judgment and claim item in the budget and he voted against the adoption of the budget.

Several others spoke on the resolution for adoption of the budget before it was approved by the 16 to 12 vote.

Prior to adjournment until 4 p. m., on December 31 for a final session of the year, Supervisor Benjamin A. Storms, (R) 2nd ward, replied to the statement of Supervisor Turck in which he objected to the afternoon public hearing.

"We agreed last week to consider a change next year," Supervisor Storms said. That was at the meeting held last week whn the date and time of the public hearing was set.

Small Attendance

At the public hearing at 3 p. m. only eleven supervisors and six citizens were in attendance.

Albert Kurdt, representing the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce, called attention to the item of $9,805 in the Community College Fund in the budget. This item he pointed out was for tuition of students attending other Community Colleges and that there was no money appropriated in the 1959 budget for a Community College in Ulster County.

W. L. "Dick" Rider inquired in regard to several items in the budget, among them the item of returned school taxes. It was explained this was the school taxes which remained unpaid and were returned for collection with the general tax. He also inquired as to an item of county clerk fees which was down from past year and was told this reflected a drop off in real estate transactions and its consequent loss of fees to the county.

After Rider had presented his questions, Supervisor Turck spoke on the limited time given to study the budget items. Supervisor Williams, (R) Saugerties, and a member of the Budget Committee stated that Minority Leader Gaffney sat on the committee and had a full "breakdown" of all items which the minority members could have inquired into. Williams said Gaffney had all the information and it could have been secured by the minority members in detail if they sought it.

Would Publish Budget First

Minority Leader Gaffney said some of the items were not agreed on and some of the Republican members had been "burned" about budget items. He said the fault was in the time schedule and more time should be given to study the proposed budget. He suggested next year departments get their requirements in earlier and he also suggested that a summary of the budget be published in the press for public information prior to the public hearing.

Although the public hearing concluded shortly before 4 o'clock in the afternoon, Eugene E. DeDea chairman of the Education Committee of the Kingston Civic Association, was granted the floor at the opening of the evening session.

DeDea said he had been prevented from attending the afternoon session because of work. He said the item of "other expenses" in the budget was a large one and should be "broken down" in each department. He cited an item of $160,000 in the Highway Department fund. He said the timing of the public hearing was wrong, the public could not get to afternoon sessions. DeDea also suggested that materials bought by the county be purchased through the state contracts where a large saving could be effected.

Supervisor Rapp (R) in reply to the suggestion that the county buy through the state contract plan, asked DeDea what would happen if all the people in Kingston bought their meat outside of Kingston instead of making purchases from the firm DeDea is employed by. "Would you have a job?" Rapp inquired. Rapp said local business should be patronized to provide work and jobs. DeDea replied that his firm sold its products "all over the world."

The board adopted a resolution renewing its contract for county services with the Kingston City Laboratory.

Supervisor Fred DuBois (R), chairman of the Community College committee, reported that the committee had met Tuesday evening and a final report was in the process of being made. This report would be made to the board of supervisors at its next meeting.

The board adjourned to December 31 at 4 p. m. for concluding business and approval of the tax rolls.

Civil Service Balks Dems' Bid to Freeze Nine Jobs

By CHARLES DUMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — The Democratic-controlled State Civil Service Commission today rejected requests from four agencies in the Democratic administration to freeze nine patronage jobs into civil service ranks.

Pay About $300,000

The commission revealed also that requests involving 34 other jobs had been withdrawn.

The combined annual pay of the 43 positions runs around $300,000.

The action came a month after the commission president, an appointee of Gov. Harriman, disclosed he had decided to reject all requests for freezing political appointees into their state jobs.

At the time, Commissioner Alexander A. Falk, a Democrat himself, said he was opposed to such job freezes in principle and had let his attitude be known to Harriman. The outoing governor said he, personally, had made no requests regarding jobs.

The action on requests to the three-member commission was reported by a spokesman, who said he was unable to reveal the vote. Besides Falk, there is one other Democrat on the commission, William H. Morgan of Cortland, and one Republican, Mrs. Mary Goode Krone of Chappaqua.

Rejects Requests

The commission discussed and rejected requests from the Banking, Labor and Public Works departments and Workmen's Compensation Board to transfer nine employes from the exempt class to civil service status. The transfer would have given them job-retention rights.

Among the nine were:

Thomas Fitzgerald, chief engineer of the Public Works Department at $18,500 a year; the department's labor relations consultant, John Tobin, $10,530 a year; and the Compensation Board's administrative deputy, Marvin Clarey, $11,750.

All of the 34 job requests that were withdrawn were from the Labor Department. They included former Mayor William Brannigan of Fulton, administrator of apprentice training, at $10,166 a year.

Denies Hospital Story

PARIS (AP)—U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles today denied Paris newspaper reports that he is expected to re-enter the hospital for an operation.

AT&T Announces 3-for-1 Split, Dividend Hike

By WARREN BENNETT
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—A newsboy from Port Chester, N.Y., an Oklahoma Indian princess and a University of California professor have one thing in common today — a sizable paper profit on their stock in American Telephone & Telegraph Co.

Directors of the world's biggest public utility recommended a 3-for-1 stock split and a 10 per cent hike in the dividend Wednesday. It's the first stock split in company history and the first dividend change in 37 years.

To Widen Market

Company directors said the split would strengthen the position of the company in obtaining large amounts of equity capital needed for expansion. They expect the split will widen the market for the stock.

The proposal sent AT&T stock skyrocketing on the New York Stock Exchange. An avalanche of buying orders forced suspension of trading. When trading resumed 1½ hours later, the stock was up $23 at $225, breaking a 27-year high. It closed at $223, up $21 on the day, on a volume of 110,200 shares.

AT&T closed at $223.75, up $23.75 on the Pacific Coast Exchange.

What does this mean to the newsboy, the Indian princess or the college professor? They probably won't take down their paper profits by selling. They've held their AT&T stock five years or more.

Biggest Corporate Family

They are part of AT&T's 1,625,800 shareowners. This is the biggest corporate family in the world, greater than the combined total of owners in the three next biggest concerns: General Motors Corp., Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey) and General Electric Co.

These three are among the 812,900 little investors who have held 15 shares or less of AT&T stock for five years or more.

If one of the trio, for instance, had purchased 10 shares at the 1954 low of $156 a share, it would have cost him $1,560, plus broker fees. In five years, he would have collected $450 in dividends.

On 10 shares he could have collected $2,230, less broker fees, at Wednesday night's New York closing price: That's a capital gain in five years of $670.

He probably wouldn't sell though. Because if he and the other stockholders approve the proposed stock-split at the next annual meeting on April 15, his 10 shares will become 30. And his dividends would increase from $90 a year on 10 shares to $99 a year on 30 shares.

Geneva Parley Ends Today in Complete Failure

GENEVA (AP) — The 10-nation conference on prevention of surprise attacks ended today in complete failure.

The talks never got down to a serious discussion of a surprise attack alert system because East and West were in total disagreement on the very purpose of the conference.

The Soviet bloc made a vain effort at the 4½-hour final meeting to have Jan. 5—or any other date — fixed for resumption of the talks.

The Western group, led by William C. Foster of the United States, firmly told the Soviet bloc it was useless to reconvene unless an agreed basis for the discussions could be established in direct contacts between the governments concerned.

The United States, Britain, France, Italy and Canada represented the North Atlantic Treaty powers; and the Soviet Union, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Romania and Albania the East bloc.

The conference opened Nov. 10 and became bogged down from the start in procedural arguments.

The Western side submitted numerous technical proposals in the hope the Soviet bloc would agree to discuss these without bringing up political issues.

Uruguay is the smallest South American republic. It is an area of 72,153 square miles.

Proper Judgment

Death Penalty Is Imposed by Judge On Coast Slayer

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — "Some crimes are so revolting there is only one penalty — the death penalty," said Superior Judge John A. Hewicker.

"I've never heard anything like this case—and I hope I won't again," he added.

Horrible Suffering

Before him Wednesday stood Harvey Glatman, 31, a Los Angeles television repairman who had confessed luring three young women into remote areas to take photographs, then raping and slowly strangling them.

"The torment and the suffering those girls underwent," said Hewicker, "must have been horrible. I will impose the death penalty as the only proper judgment."

Glatman later told reporters: "It was about what I wanted."

In a tape-recorded confession presented at the trial, Glatman said his motive for dating the women was sexual. He said he would not have killed them had they cooperated. He raped them and killed them so they wouldn't tell police.

Glatman's photos of his victims —showing them bound and gagged before death—were entered as evidence and released to newsmen.

He was ordered to die for the murders of Mrs. Shirley Ann Bridgeford, 24, a Sun Valley, Calif., divorcee, and Miss Ruth Mercado, 24, a Los Angeles model. He was not tried for the slaying of Hollywood model Judy Dull, 19. The murder took place in neighboring Riverside County.

Communist Pressure

CHICAGO (AP)—Back from a survey of Protestant church life behind the iron curtain, Dr. T. Otto Nall, editor of the Methodist church's "New Christian advocate," reports the churches there are carrying on "timidly, tentatively, but tenaciously." He said there is less pressure on the churches in Russia than in Red-ruled East Germany.

Other DUSO Contests Set For Tonight

By ED PALLADINO
Freeman Sports Staff

A rarity in area high schools — Thursday night basketball games—will be seen tonight as the DUSO League closes shop until after the holidays. Kingston High School will seek a fourth straight victory as it hosts Ellenville at the Kate Walton field house. The jayvee teams start the proceedings at 6:30 and the varsity game will follow.

Other circuit contests will have Fallsburgh visiting Newburgh, Monticello at Poughkeepsie and Port Jervis at Liberty. Middletown draws a bye and will travel to Beacon for a non-league engagement.

The card reads this way:

ELLENVILLE at KINGSTON—The Ellies have been hot and cold but their center, Ben Davis, has been great. He has scored at least 20 points or better in three league starts, of which Ellenville has captured only one. If Kingston stops Davis it will have an easy time. It the big center has his usual hot night and one or two of his teammates also find the hoop, it could be an interesting tilt. The locals have looked like pennant contenders. They have a one-two scoring punch in Joe Uhl and John Kelly. The defense has been satisfactory. However, the center slot in the lineup has produced very few points and Coach John Gilligan is worried. The top clubs have good big men and Kingston has to improve there. Otherwise, the picture is rosy.

FALLSBURGH at NEWBURGH—Coach George Masterson and his Goldbacks can score as many points as they wish. The Comets are weak and NFA is loaded. The Hilly City quintet has nipped Liberty and demolished Middletown and Poughkeepsie in impressive fashion. It has a tremendous player in LeRoy Riley and two other fine pointmakers in Jack Coonan and Vince DeCerbo. The Goldbacks could go all the way.

MONTICELLO at POUGHKEEPSIE—The Pioneers booked like a second division club against Newburgh. At home they promise to be tougher and will have an advantage in height over the Monties. However, this isn't one of Sam Kalloch's better clubs and Monticello could come home a winner for the third straight time. The Monties are contenders. PHS will be among the league's also-rans.

PORT JERVIS at LIBERTY—A crucial one for both clubs. The Porters are unbeaten and untested. Liberty has low a pair of tough ones and needs this one to stay in contention. At home the Indians are dangerous. This could go either way but the general feeling is that Liberty may be a little too strong for the Porters.

After tonight the league takes a break until January 6 with four games on tap that night. The first crucial contest will be Friday, January 9, when Kingston invades the lair of Newburgh Free Academy. Both clubs may very well be unbeaten at that time and, if so, the Hilly City gym will be jammed to the rafters.

McLean Resigns Green Bay Post

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—Ray (Scooter) McLean resigned Wednesday after a single season as head coach of the Green Bay Packers of the National Football League.

Last summer McLean forecast his team had "as good a chance as any" for the league title and declared, "We're going to shoot the moon."

The launching never took place and the countdown produced only a 1-10-1 record and last place in the Western Conference. It was the poorest showing in the 40-year history of the Packers.

McLean accepted an offer to become backfield coach of the Detroit Lions under his longtime friend, George Wilson.

"It was best for everybody and everything concerned," said McLean. He added, "Nothing would please me more than to see the Packers come up with a real winner next year."

Scooter said he received the offer from the Lions Wednesday morning "and I decided to accept it real quick. We haven't even discussed terms yet." He replaces John (Red) Cochran, who quit.

McLean was warned of an uncertain future Tuesday when the Packer management approved a reorganization that included plans to hire a new general manager and give him complete responsibility for the team, including the selection of a coach.

Archie Got Long Counts — Durelle

TORONTO (AP)—Yvon Durelle said Wednesday night that champion Archie Moore received the benefit of two long counts when Durelle floored him in the first round of their world lightheavyweight title bout last Wednesday in Montreal.

Durelle declared that while Referee Jack Sharkey was tolling two nine-counts over Moore the timekeeper marked off "13 or 14" seconds on each of the knock downs.

"Sharkey took his own count and not that of the timekeeper," the stocky maritimer said in an interview prior to a television appearance.

Durelle, who was knocked out in the 11th round said he wasn't making the comments because of sour grapes.

200 Vote, Margin Is 5-2

Football Writers Approve Two-Point Conversion Rule

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

College football's rules - makers made the first change in 46 years which affected scoring values when they adopted the somewhat controversial two-point conversion last January.

Today their action received a strong vote of approval from nearly 200 sports writers and broadcasters replying to the annual Associated Press post-season football questionnaire.

By a margin of about 5-2 the experts favored retaining the rule in its present form, although a few suggested some changes. And by an even greater margin they voted that the rule had achieved its purpose — at least in making the game more entertaining to spectators.

For Running, Passing

The rule adopted by the NCAA committee provided that two points are awarded for a successful running or passing play from the three-yard line after a touchdown and only one when the goal is kicked. It was greeted with some scepticism when it was passed and the professionals, most of the high schools and the National Assn. of Intercollegiate Athletics refused to go along with it.

In the AP poll of sports writers and broadcasters, 133 said the rule should be retained and only 51 voted to abandon it immediately. Nine grudgingly suggested giving it another year's trial.

On the second part of the question — whether the two-pointer had been successful in providing more entertainment for fans and in reducing the number of tie games, 103 said it added to interest but there was an inconclusive 42-26 "yes" vote on eliminating ties. Only 17 said the two-point rule had failed to achieve either purpose.

Unbalance Claim

The principal objections to the two-point conversion was that it put the point values of other plays out of balance.

"Why give two points for three yards when a player gets only six points for a 100-yard run?" asked one writer.

Another suggested: "The goal posts must be returned to the goal line so that three points are not so relatively more difficult to score than two." Several others concurred about returning the posts to the goal line.

"It failed to provide the advertised drama or decide any really big games," said still another. "If it would add anything to the game, the pros would have adopted it long ago."

Other Negotions

Some other negative comments: "Made a subsidiary part of the game ridiculously over - important."

"Two points for a conversion only doubles the value of the most senseless play in football."

The experts favoring the rule were quite enthusiastic in most cases and several suggested it should be adopted by pros and high schools. A few thought it should be kept but made more difficult — by spotting the ball as much as ten yards from the goal instead of three.

Then there was this somewhat negative comment: "I don't know if it eliminated many ties, but it certainly gave the Monday quarterbacks something new to discuss."

Three Teams Vie For Hockey Lead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

With the Cleveland Barons on a hot streak which has produced 12 victories in their last 14 games, the battle for first place in the American Hockey League has developed into a three team affair.

The Barons moved within three points of second place Hershey and four of the pace-setting Buffalo Bisons Wednesday night when they defeated the Bears 6-2 in the circuit's only game. The victory was Cleveland's fourth straight.

Cleveland took a 2-1 lead in the first period, added another goal by Bob Robertson in the second, and poured it on in the third with Bob Barlow getting two of the three tallies.

Monticello Stockholders Register Confidence Vote

Stockholders of the Sullivan County Harness Racing Association registered a vote of confidence with the Board of Directors, approving four resolutions with more than 90 percent of the stockholders voting. Less than one percent of the 1,800 stockholders voted against the proposition with the remainder abstaining.

More than 150 persons attended a special meeting of the association to hear plans for next season, to consent to the increasing of capital stock by $900,000, approve a contract with Yonkers Contracting Co., Inc., providing for settling of claims, authorize borrowing of $500,000 and amend the by-laws so that the annual meeting of the stockholders for election of directors might take place the third Thursday of October.

Among those who spoke complimenting the directors on their integrity and expressing confidence in the board were Abe Rosenberg of Monticello, Harry Geist of Mt. Vernon and Barton Steinberg of Poughkeepsie.

The 1959 racing dates of the Monticello Raceway, which were announced by Commissioner George Monaghan a short time ago, will open the Catskill trotting track on Thursday, June 18 for a 75 night meet, closing on Saturday, Sept. 12.

The plant is located on a 240 acre site at the intersection of Routes 17 and 17B just outside Monticello and it provides one of the finest racing facilities in upstate New York.

Olson's Low-Blow TKO Win Probed

FRESNO (AP) — The California Athletic Commission yesterday investigated former middleweight champion Bobo Olson's TKO victory Tuesday night but it appeared the verdict will stand.

Olson, now 30 and fighting as a light heavyweight, landed a low blow at 1:28 of the fifth round against Tommy Villa of San Jose.

Referee Johnny Reno took a point away from Olson's score and ordered a five-minute rest for Villa. But the 23-year-od said he wouldn't continue and Olson was given victory by a technical knockout — his third straight on a comeback trail.

Purse Held Up

But Olson's $3,250 purse and the one of $500 for Villa was held up pending investigation of whether the referee was correct in giving the fight to Olson on the low blow.

Executive officer Jack Urch said the commission is checking with parties involved in the fight, but the referee's decision stands and it would be "unusual procedure" to reverse it. He said nothing has been found so far to warrant any reversal.

MONTY STICKLES

Parade, Ceremonies Slated For 'Monty Stickles Day'

Poughkeepsie's Monty Stickles, All-America Notre Dame end, will be honored for his gridiron achievements in a "Monty Stickles day" parade and ceremonies Saturday.

Mayor George Spitz of the Bridge City has issued a proclamation setting aside Saturday, December 20 as "Monty Stickles day" in Poughkeepsie and he will present the junior end a key to the city in behalf of all its citizens in ceremonies in front of City Hall.

Stickles will arrive home for the holidays early Saturday morning and the parade, through the city's business district, will begin at 1 p. m. Monty will ride in the main car, as will his mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Montfort Stickles Sr.

After the parade, Stickles will be presented with several plaques and gifts in city hall ceremonies. The Poughkeepsie Little League, of which the Notre Dame star was a member, will give him a plaque. The Dutchess County CYO will present the former Poughkeepsie High school star athlete with a scroll, signed by Francis Cardinal Spellman. Many other organizations in the city will take part in the ceremonies, which will be heard in the entire business district of the city by means of the loudspeakers which play Christmas music.

Speakers will include Mayor Spitz, Sam J. Kalloch, who guided Stickles through four years of sports in high school, and George Palmateer, Sports Editor of the Poughkeepsie New Yorker.

Top Irish Scorer

The guest of honor led Notre Dame in scoring for the second straight season. This year he had seven touchdowns, a game winning field goal and 15 extra points. He caught 20 passes for 328 yards and was one of the few bright spots for the Irish. Notre Dame finished the season with a 6-4 record.

Stickles has been named to these All-American teams: The Sporting News, National Broadcasting Company, Sports Illustrated, Daily News and Catholic News first teams; the Associated Press and United Press International second teams and the Newspaper Enterprises of America third team.

The 6-4 end is majoring in sociology in the School of Arts and Letters at Notre Dame. While at Poughkeepsie High School, he broke the all-time DUSO league scoring record along with Mickey Burkoski of Newburgh. That mark was topped last season by Alex Osowick of Port Jervis.

Stickles was named to the All-DUSO football team for three years, and to the All-DUSO basketball team for two seasons. Monty played on two undefeated football clubs, an unbeaten basketball team and on six championship teams in the three main sports, football, basketball and baseball. He had countless college scholarships for both football and basketball. The Poughkeepsie resident finally enrolled at Notre Dame and and became the first player from the Bridge City to attain All-America honors.

Figures Make Chandler 1-Man Gang for Giants

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Who is the New York Giants' best runner? Best passer? Best punter? It is one and the same man — Don Chandler.

Chandler carried once this year on a fake punt against Baltimore and gained 15 yards. That stands as his average for the season. He passed once and completed it for a gain of 27 yards and a 1.000 percentage. The average for his 65 punts is 44 yards, second only to Washington's Sam Baker in the National Football League.

Although Coach Jim Lee Howell doesn't count on Chandler to do much running or throwing Sunday Cleveland in the playoff for the eastern division title, he does count heavily on his punting.

Chandler is an Oklahoma boy who went to Florida to play college football. He was a quarterback in high school and junior college and a halfback at Florida under Bob Woodruff.

As a pro, Chandler seldom does anything but kick. But he always has the option from Howell to run it down if there is a run open. Giant fans were as startled as [illegible]re staff when he faked a punt and ran against the Colts.

"I have been kicking a football as long as I can remember," he said. "I don't remember who taught me. It just seemed to come naturally. . ."

Chandler's longest punt this year was a 65-yard boot against Pittsburgh. He did kick one 79 yards from the line of scrimmage in an exhibition game.

W. Va., Wildcats Picked in Tourney Opening Friday

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Two national champions — the regular season and NCAA kings — could tangle in the Kentucky Invitational Basketball Tournament which opens Friday night.

West Virginia, which finished last season at the top of the Associated Press poll and currently is ranked seventh, starts things off in defense of their own tourney [illegible]n in a duel with Oklahoma State.

[illegible] Kentucky, defending NCAA champ and host of the tourney, meets Ohio State in the nightcap on the first of two evenings of play.

West Virginia won last year's tourney with a 75-64 victory over North Carolina when each participating team received more than $11,750, setting a national record.

Kentucky's current No. 2 national ranking and the Wildcats' affinity for winning on their home floor make them a favorite to win the tourney. If they do, it will be the fourth time in six years the Cats have turned the trick.

The host team is the only one of the four with an unblemished record — sporting six consecutive victories. West Virginia was upset last Saturday at the hands of Virgina and is 5-1.

Ohio State, picked as the tourney dark horse, is 1-2 this season and Oklahoma State is even with two wins and an equal number of losses.

Poor Guy Scores Only 39

A Bad Night for Oscar; Hits Under 40 Points

By SHELDON SAKOWITZ
Associated Press Sports Writer

Future opponents of the Cincinnati Bearcats, the nation's No. 1 college basketball team, can relax a bit. All America Oscar Robertson doesn't concentrate on scoring all the time.

For the first time in four games this season, Robertson's scoring output went below 40 points Wednesday night. He netted only 39 as the undefeated Bearcats thrashed College of the Pacific 112-66.

Robby, hampered by a jammed finger, played about 36 minutes. His scoring average now is 41.8.

If he can maintain his average, he will break the all-time season record of 41.7, set by Frank Selvy of Furman in 1953-54.

Fourth-ranked North Carolina State and North Carolina, No. 10, were the only other members of the top 10 teams in this week's Associated Press poll to see action. N.C. State whipped La Salle 82-66 for its fifth straight victory. The Tar Heels made it three in a row with a 70-57 lacing of South Carolina in an Atlantic Coast Conference game.

Undefeated Michigan State (No. 11) downed Notre Dame 74-56 for its third triumph, Auburn (No. 13) captured its 14th straight over a two-season span by routing Florida State 95-74, and SMU (No. 2) turned back Oklahoma 59-51.

North Carolina assumed a 34-25 halftime lead over South Carolina and pulled away after the Gamecocks had moved to within four points. York Larese paced the Tar Heels with 17 but yielded scoring honors to Ray Pericola, who topped South Carolina with 21.

Celts Win, Take 1st; NY Loses

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Boston Celts find themselves in first place today in the National Basketball Assn's Eastern Division by using a much-maligned facet of play in the pro ranks — defense.

Boston defeated the Detroit Pistons 102-95 in the second game of a doubleheader at Detroit after the champion St. Louis Hawks rolled over the New York Knicks, 136-122 in the first game.

The Knicks and Celts were tied for first place before Wednesday night's only NBA action.

Detroit was held to a skimpy 16 points in the fourth period, after trailing 80-79 after three quarters.

The Celtics, now 17-8, edged a full game ahead of the Knicks, mainly on the scoring of their veteran back court combination, Bob Cousy and Bill Sharman.

While Detroit's George Yardley was scoring 33 points, Sharman hit 25 and Cousy 21 to pace the Celtics.

Bob Pettit and Cliff Hagan each scored 35 points in pacing the Hawks to the victory over the Knicks in a wide-open game.

Always a President

There is no time when the United States is without a president. The Constitution provides that the term of the chief executive shall end at noon on January 20; the new president's term starts immediately even though there may be a delay of a few minutes in his taking the oath of office.

Crown Set For Banks

BALTIMORE (AP) — Ernie Banks, whose 47 home runs for the Chicago Cubs last season set an all-time record for major league shortstops, will receive the "Sultan of Swat" crown here Jan. 12.

Coach Eddie Robinson of the Baltimore Orioles announced Wednesday night Banks had been picked for the honor by the Maryland Professional Baseball Players Assn. Robinson is chairman of the award dinner at which the presentation will be made.

Banks recently was voted the National League's Most Valuable Player award for the 1958 season.

Previous winners of the diamond-studded gold crown were Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox last winter and Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees after the 1956 season.

The 27-year-old Banks, first National League winner, also led the major leagues in runs batted in with 129 and total bases with 379 while hitting .313 last season.

Tigers Are 1st, But Ended 5th

CHICAGO (AP) — One look at the final American League fielding averages would give no indication as to which team won the pennant.

Topping the league in fielding was Detroit with a .982 percentage. The Tigers finished fifth. The champion New York Yankees finished sixth in fielding with a .976 percentage while tailend Washington tied Baltimore for third in fielding with a .980 average.

The Chicago White Sox, league leaders in fielding in 1956 and 1957, finished second to Detroit with .981. Kansas City finished fifth with a .979 average, Boston was seventh with .976 and Cleveland last with .974.

The Yankees, however, had two individual leaders. Bill Skowron led all first basemen with a .993 average through 118 games and Yogi Berra topped the catchers. Yogi had a perfect record through 88 games as he handled 509 putouts and made 41 assists.

Bolling on Top

Detroit's Frank Bolling came out on top among second basemen. Bolling had a .9849 mark to the .9648 record by Chicago's Nellie Fox. Billy Gardner of Baltimore was third with .9845.

Joe DeMaestri of Kansas City led the shortstops for the second straight season with the identical mark of .980 which made him first in 1957.

Eddie Yost, recently traded to Detroit by Washington, was the No. 1 third baseman with a .964 average.

Baltimore's Jim Busby, traded to Boston this week, made only one error to lead all regular outfielders with a .995 percentage. Al Kaline of Detroit was second with .994 and Washington slugger Roy Sievers was third with a .991.

Ned Garver of Kansas City topped the pitchers with two errors in 77 chances for a .974 average. Thirty seven pitchers went through the season without a miscue with Billy O'Dell of Baltimore topping the perfectionists with 44 chances.

The Yankees again led the league in double plays with 182, one less than their 1957 total.

Perkins Beams, Vasquez Screams 'Not Mexico Way'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Eddie Perkins was beaming and Baby Vasquez screaming today in the aftermath of Perkins' second straight victory before the Wednesday TV fight cameras.

Perkins, 21-year-old Chicago lightweight comer, stopped Vasquez on a technical knockout at 2:40 in the seventh round of their lightweight scrap at Capital Arena Wednesday night.

"A short right did it," Perkins said.

'Butt,' He Cries

"It was a butt," Baby snapped through a dressing room interpreter.

Pancho Rosales, the invader's manager, carried on from there. "In Mexico," Rosales growled, "they take the fight away from him for that."

Perkins, who upset Frankie Ryff in his TV debut last month, was comfortably ahead on two of the three official cards when Referee Ray Bowen escorted Vasquez to the ropes for the eye examination.

Through six rounds Perkins led 56-49 on Bowen's card and 59-53 on Judge Julian Whitestone's sheet. Judge Ben Alperstein rated the bout a 57-57 standoff at that point. The Associated Press gave Perkins a 58-55 edge.

Vasquez weighed 133¾ and Perkins 133½. The fight was close until Perkins began scoring with left jabs, an occasional hook and combinations.

Rough Going For Upstate 5s

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It was a poor night for the big name teams of Upstate basketball Wednesday night.

Syracuse suffered its first defeat of the season as Fordham rocked the Orange quintet, 80-75.

Colgate couldn't cope with rangy Connecticut's blistering 53 per cent shooting clip and took a 72-57 lacing at Hamilton.

And the University of Buffalo fell before the Quantico Marines, 83-63, in a semi-final game at the Marines' annual Christmas tourney in Quantico, Va.

Jon Cincebox's 25 points, high for the night, went for naught as Syracuse and the Rams battled on nearly even terms. Fordham led at the half, 42-40.

The lead changed hands 13 times before John Andareise canned a jump shot late in the second half which made the score 68-67 and put Fordham in front to stay. Andareise paced Ram scorers with 21 points.

At Hamilton, Colgate grabbed an early lead, but Jack Risley entered the game, mustered Connecticut defenses, and sparked a rally that put the Uconns in front, 34-31, at intermission.

Connecticut increased its lead in the second half while the Red Raiders at one point hit only two baskets in 9½ minutes.

The Marines and Buffalo played on even terms for most of the first half until Quantico moved ahead, 23-22, stretched the margin to 33-26 at half-time, and had things its way the rest of the second half.

Buffalo at one stage went seven minutes without hitting a basket from the field.

In other action involving Upstate teams, it was Union 61, Rensselaer Poly 51; Kings Point 68, Alfred 53; and Buffalo State 84, Rochester 81.

Akins, Jordan Return Certain

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Eddie Yawitz, co-manager of Virgil Atkins, declared last night "there will definitely be a rematch" between Akins and Don Jordan who took the welterweight title away from Akins Dec. 5.

"Jordan and his manager have signed a contract for a rematch and we will hold them to it," Yawitz asserted. He said it will be in St. Louis.

"The only things we're not sure of are the date and the sponsor."

Hawks in Fourth, Break Tie Binge

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Chicago Black Hawks aren't exactly what you would call a hot team but they found themselves in a tie for fourth place today in the National Hockey League after winning their first game in eight starts. In the other seven they chalked up four ties.

The two points picked up by the Hawks in their 5-2 triumph over the third place Boston Bruins in the league's only game Wednesday night moved them into a tie with the idle New York Rangers.

Brain Ailment Hits Si Green

CINCINNATI (AP) — Sihugo Green, a former All-America college star, has become the second member of the Cincinnati Royals of the National Basketball Assn. to be laid low by an apparent brain ailment.

Specialists said Wednesday they believe that Green, who has been in a hospital here since Dec. 9, has a blood clot on the brain and that surgery may be necessary.

Maurice Stokes, one of the top NBA rebounders, has lain—never more than partly conscious—since last spring with an ailment diagnosed as encephalopathy, a form of brain disease.

Green, who did his collegiate playing at Duquesne, has collapsed three times this season.

Team Morale Not Problem: Brown

CLEVELAND (AP) — Coach Paul E. Brown may have problems, but team morale, he says, is not one of them.

Asked about the mental attitude of the Cleveland Browns, who are sharpening up their attack for Sunday's do-or-die game against the New York Giants, Brown said: "It's one thing I'm not worried about.

"Sure the fellows felt badly about losing," Brown continued, "but they know they played a darn fine football game."

Brown joined the Giants in hoping for a dry field in Yankee Stadium, and his reasoning sounded similar to that of Vince Lombardi, offensive coach for the Giants.

More Team Speed

"We have more team speed in my opinion so a bad field hurts us more," said Brown. "I believe the Giants are a shade bigger."

Lombardi, on the other hand, told reporters in New York the Giant offense "is built more on quick cuts rather than power. The heavy going was made to order for (Jimmy) Brown with the heavy middle of the Cleveland line."

Asked if any major changes are contemplated by the Browns, Coach Brown remarked:

"We're certainly not going to panic or go berserk because we lost a football game. We're making adjustments and some changes as we always do."

Hollywood News, Views

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Not in the memory of this reporter has there been a year in Hollywood so packed with news events.

One big story after another broke during 1958 to keep the news staff hopping.

Here is how the top 10 news events appear from this vantage point:

Stabbing Top Story

1. The Johnny Stompanato stabbing by Cheryl Crane. The death scene in Lana Turner's bedroom was more dramatic than any that could be concocted for a movie. Lana's daughter was cleared in Stompanato's death, but the tragedy is not over.

2. Showman Mike Todd's death in a flaming air crash. It was a stunning blow to his devoted wife Elizabeth Taylor, who was to write an epilogue to the story.

3. The Liz-Eddie-Debbie triangle. Todd's buddy Eddie Fisher consoled the widow. They even went to Grossinger's, the New York resort where Eddie had wed Debbie Reynolds. Result: rift with Debbie amid large headlines.

Two Surprise Oscars

4. Tyrone Power's sudden death.

5. The Dominican invasion. The gift-giver of 1958 was not a prince of the East, but a general from the South. Lt. Gen. Rafael Trujillo Jr., son of the Dominican Republic strong man, made news with his gifts of expensive autos to Kim Novak and Zsa Zsa Gabor.

6. The surprise oscars for Joanne Woodward and Miyoshi Umeki.

7. The death of Harry Cohn. The year took a heavy toll in film pioneers—Jesse Lasky, Al Lichtman, Sam Zimbalist, etc. But the most significant loss was Cohn, who had ruled Columbia with an iron hand. His passing marked the close of the big studio era.

8. The rise of the millionaire star. This was no sudden news event, but it was the most significant change within the movie industry. A dozen big stars — Brando, Holden, Wayne, Cooper, Stewart, etc.—seized the balance of power from the big studios and could demand fantastic deals.

9. The death of Richard Skelton. Few events in recent Hollywood times so touched the world as the passing from leukemia of Red Skelton's young son.

10. The Jayne Mansfield-Mickey Hargitay wedding. Jayne did her darndest to make it a glamorous event.

Memories

LIVINGSTON, N. J. (AP)—William Brown has two hulking keepsakes in his basement—the wheels from the first airplane ever to land at Newark Airport. He treasures them because he invented a device on the wheels that started them spinning before they touched down on the runway.

Run Over, Shot

Student Succumbs Without Speaking

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — A St. Louis University student, run over by a car and apparently shot three times, was found dying Wednesday night in a case that has police baffled.

The student, James S. Bullock, 27, of suburban Richmond Heights, died without speaking. Passing motorists had found him sprawled in a road in front of the City Art Museum.

Police were almost certain two head wounds were from a small caliber weapon and that half a dozen tiny wounds in the chest were from shotgun pellets but were awaiting results of an autopsy today.

A car had passed over both legs.

Police Sgt. Edward Schaaf said, "We have no definite leads."

Robbery was ruled out as a possible motive. Police found $20 in his pockets.

Bullock's car, the engine still running, was found on a gravel lane behind the museum in a secluded section on the west edge of St. Louis. A trail of blood led from the car.

His bride of six months, Etta, 23, said her husband had left home for night classes about half an hour before the body was found. Bullock was employed at the Union Electric Co.

Lewis Elected Head Of Sylvania Concern

NEW YORK (AP)—Robert E. Lewis has been elected president of Sylvania Electric Products Inc., the board of directors said today.

Lewis formerly a senior vice president, succeeds Don G. Mitchell, who will continue as chairman of the board. Directors of Sylvania and General Telephone Corp. have approved merger of Sylvania into General Telephone and Mitchell is slated to become president of the combined company.

Lewis, also a director of Sylvania, headed the Argus Cameras division and had served as president of Argus Cameras, Inc., before that company combined with Sylvania in 1957.

84 Bogota Deaths

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP)—The death toll of the Vida department store fire stood today at 84. It rose to that figure with the death of two persons seriously injured in the tragedy that came during a Christmas shopping rush Tuesday night.

All Set

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Sam Weisenberg of San Diego hooked a ride with three men in a jeep during a hunting trip in Utah. He fell off the jeep and injured his back before he was introduced to the trio and learned they were all from San Diego. But by then he felt quite secure. One was a doctor. Another was a priest. And the third was an undertaker.

Woman's Club Holds Christmas Meeting

The Wallkill Woman's Club met Friday in the Community Room of the Valley National Bank. In the absence of Mrs. Ira Wickner, vice president, Mrs. Walter Wallack presided. The meeting opened with a prayer and the flag salute. Mrs. Wallack read an article on "Brotherhood."

Three members were named to the honorary list, Mrs. Louisa Parliman, Mrs. Arthur Terwilliger, who were presented with corsages, and Mrs. Herman Stauttner who was absent.

A collection was taken for the Forster Home Christmas fund. Any member absent wishing to contribute may send a donation to Mrs. Gordon Irvine by Dec. 22.

Mrs. Howard Smith was introduced as chairman of the January meeting when members will bring antiques. Mrs. Smith may be contacted before Jan. 9 if you have articles to exhibit.

The program closed with a recording of the Waltz of the Flowers from the Nutcracker Suite.

Mrs. Walter Harris was social chairman. Assisting with the refreshments were Mrs. George Brach, Miss Helen Van Wyck, Mrs. C. E. Penney, Mrs. Harry Dunn, Mrs. E. Lown and Mrs. Gordon Irvine.

Sometimes an Actor

Marc Connelly, the Pulitzer Prize winning playwright of "The Green Pastures," is now and then an actor. He plays a role in the new comedy, "Tall Story," headed for Broadway. A Pulitzer Prize playwright, Connelly has acted a few times before — completely in the ham school.

Matter of FACT

Mass transportation in cities is a recent development. In the early 19th century, the first public transit vehicles, large horse-drawn coaches carrying 15 to 20 passengers, called omnibuses, were introduced. In 1832, the first omnibus on rails was built in New York. This early "streetcar" operated on a track about a mile long on the Bowery.

COAST TO COAST: DAYS TO HOURS—On Nov. 5, 1911, daredevil Galbraith P. Rodgers landed his Wright biplane in Pasadena, Calif., to end 49 days of incredible air travel across the United States. It was the first coast-to-coast flight. The accident-filled, hopscotching epic (white line on map) Rodgers wrote in his flimsy craft opened transcontinental skyways for the many who would follow, dramatically chopping travel time. Now, on Jan. 23, 1959, coast-to-coast commercial jet airliner service on Boeing 707's will begin, not taking 49 days but a mere 4½ hours of effortless flight. Important transcontinental flights are shown above:

- 1928—Kelly and MacReady flew a Fokker plane nonstop from New York to San Diego in a mere 18 hours, 58 minutes.
- 1930—Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh, Los Angeles to New York in Lockheed "Sirius," 14 hours, 45 minutes.
- 1930—Capt. Frank Hawks, in new "mystery" ship, eclipsed Lindbergh mark, 12 hours, 45 minutes.
- 1937—Millionaire Howard Hughes averaged 332 m.p.h. in low-winged monoplane, reaching Newark from Los Angeles in 7 hours, 28 minutes.
- 1944—Air Force Col. Claire Peterson whipped P-51 Mustang coast to coast in 6 hours, 31 minutes.
- 1957—Marine Maj. John H. Glenn established present record with Navy F8U-P Crusader jet, 3 hours, 23 minutes.

Wrong Presents

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP) — John Perry, 20, was released from county jail after being held in an embezzlement case. Sheriff Don Genung said Perry returned the next day with cigarettes and candy for his 18 inmate friends. The box of candy also contained five hacksaw blades. Perry is back in jail on a charge of smuggling escape material.

Robins Are Back, Or Maybe They Didn't Leave Yet

It might be a harbinger and then it may turn out to be just a case of mixed up robins.

The fact is Mrs. Warren Simmons of Hurley Heights notified her husband, an employe of The Freeman, shortly before noon today, that she had spotted three robins out on the lawn.

With just seven days before Christmas, it could be a harbinger, but then again who knows?
